

Treasury Is Asked For Further Data On Tax Reduction

Ways and Means Committee Inclines To View That Mellon Plan Is Too Conservative.

PLANNING TO CUT OVER $300,000,000

President Coolidge Said To Agree With Views of Committee on Amount of Reduction.

Washington, November 4.—(AP)—Desiring to make the maximum possible reduction in taxes, the house ways and means committee today asked a limit of $300,000,000, to present additional data on probable government expenses and receipts for the next fiscal year so it can determine for itself how far to go in cutting levies.

This was the committee's first move when it started work today on the actual preparation of a tax reduction bill after more than two weeks of public hearings.

Favor Larger Slash.
While Secretary Mellon proposed that the government's annual income be reduced by not more than $300,000,000, committee members feel it may be possible on the basis of late estimates, to go beyond these figures. President Coolidge inclines to a similar view.

All of the 25 members of the committee were present today at the first of its executive sessions and indications were given that representatives of both parties would work together to draft a non-partisan measure in time for presentation when congress convenes December 7.

Under a program of procedure approved today, the committee will tackle the income taxes after setting its goal for total reduction.

Program of Procedure.
The committee's program unanimously approved, provides for consideration after disposal of the income levies, of the taxes on corporations, capital stock, gifts, cigars and tobacco, excise levies, those on admissions and dues and occupational and stamp taxes, in the order named.

The subcommittee which outlined this program and will have the work of drafting the language of new provisions, is composed of Chairman Green, Representative Hawley, Oregon, and Mills, New York, republicans, and Garner, Texas, and Collier, Mississippi, democrats.

ECONOMY WATCHWORD OF REPUBLICAN LEADERS.
Washington, November 4.—(AP)—Concentration on tax reduction and appropriation bills was agreed upon today at an informal conference of republican leaders as the tentative legislative program for the house in the coming session.

Representative Longworth, of Ohio, who has been designated speaker, and the republican floor leader of the last session, returned to the capitol today and held conferences with leaders of both parties.

"We are determined first to carry out the government's program of economy as provided in the revenue and appropriation measures," he said. "Beyond that we have no look."

Representative Tilton, of Connecticut, who is to succeed Mr. Longworth as floor leader, expressed a similar view. The tax bill, which is expected to be ready for consideration when congress opens December 7, will be given the right of way, he said. Both he and Mr. Longworth predicted this measure could be enacted upon before January 1 and they were agreed that the appropriation measures should be taken up immediately afterwards.

Legislation to aid cooperative marketing reorganization of the government departments and disposition of Muscle Shoals are other problems expected to claim attention, but no decision has been reached on placing them in the program.

Democratic leaders, including Representative Hull, of Tennessee, and Oldfield, of Arkansas, have announced they would seek revision of the tariff act. Some also favor going into railroad legislation, but republican leaders definitely are opposed to the former and frown upon the latter.

ATLANTAN DIES IN TIA JUANA; THOUGHT SLAIN

T. M. N. George May Have Been Victim of Murderous Attack While On Visit to West.

PROBE IS ORDERED IN SUDDEN DEATH

Family Hears That Young Atlanta Business Man Was Seized Suddenly by Illness and Succumbed.

Columbus, Ohio, November 4.—(AP)—Insanity, caused by the fact that his wife was about to sue him for divorce, led Shirley T. Wing, 32, Rhodes scholar, to shoot and wound his wife and her father, Claude Meeker, broker-politician, before he committed suicide last night, Mrs. Marjorie Meeker Wing declared from her bed in a hospital here today.

The shooting occurred when Meeker, who came to the Wing home to take his daughter to dinner, attempted to intervene in an altercation between Wing and his wife. Wing had locked himself and Mrs. Wing in a bedroom just prior to Meeker's arrival. When the father remonstrated with him, Wing shot him through a casement window between the bedroom and hall, and then fired the shots which wounded Mrs. Wing and caused his own death.

Coroner J. A. Murphy and Prosecuting Attorney John King agreed with Mrs. Wing and the coroner returned a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane.

After describing events which led to the shooting of herself and father, Mrs. Wing continued:
"He grabbed me by the throat and choked me. He then opened the gun and showed me there were bullets in it. 'Now I am going to shoot you,' he said."

Tells of Shooting.
"He shot at my father first through the casement window over the stairway and then at me. Then he shot himself. When I saw that he was down, I dragged myself to his body and took the key from his pocket (Wing having previously locked the door and pocketed the key) and opened the door and crawled downstairs."

Charles M. Wing, father of the dead man and president of a local bank, today disputed Mrs. Wing's contention that her husband was unbalanced, blaming the young woman for Wing's action, on the ground that she was extravagant and devoted too much time to literary activity. Young Wing, the parent said, was extremely fond of his young daughter Audrey and was proud of Mrs. Wing's literary ability.

Mrs. Wing and her father were reported recovering.

MAJOR CHESTNEY DIES IN MACON

Noted Confederate Veteran and Retired Banker Succumbs To Injuries Received in Fire.

Macon, Ga., November 4.—Major T. O. Chestney, retired banker and Confederate veteran, died at the residence here at noon today from pneumonia and complications following an accident of two weeks ago in which he received severe burns when his clothing accidentally caught fire from an open grate.

Until his merger with other institutions some years ago Major Chestney was cashier of the old Central Georgia bank here, and at the time of his death was connected in a recreational capacity with several local banks and civic institutions.

He was known throughout the south for his distinguished civil war record, in which he served as chief of staff under General Elzey in many major engagements, and personally led the famous cavalry in the first battle at Manassas.

The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the residence, 122 Second street. Draped with the Confederate flag, the flag that he loved and under which he fought, the casket will be placed in the family burying plot in Rose Hill cemetery.

Besides his widow Major Chestney is survived by six children, all grown and seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Near-Beer Interests Assemble at Capital To Prevent Tax That Is Advocated by Andrews.

London, November 5.—(Thursday) Four thousand Druse rebels are massing 15 miles south of Damascus, according to a dispatch from that city to the Daily Mail.

The French are described as being so short of troops that they are endeavoring to conscript Kurds and others for the defense of the city. An uncontrollable spirit of rebellion exists throughout the country.

FRENCH PREPARE TO ATTACK REBELS.
Cairo, November 4.—It is reported from Syria that the French are preparing a punitive expedition to attack the insurgents, who now completely surround Damascus. The number of the insurgents is said to be increasing daily as refugees arrive from villages destroyed by French troops. Damascus is being fortified.

BOLSHIEVIK AGENTS ACTIVE IN SYRIA.
Constantinople, November 4.—Bolshevik agents are active in Syria, where the inhabitants are rising against the French, according to authoritative news received here.

Bolshevik agents have passed through Constantinople en route to Syria by way of Palestine. They are said to be assisting the Syrians in their battle against French administration.

CANDLER'S ILLNESS REPORTED GRAVE

Condition of Asa G. Candler Reported Unchanged Following Relapse Several Days Ago.

The condition of Asa G. Candler, Atlanta capitalist who a few days ago suffered a relapse from effects of a severe cold contracted several weeks ago, Wednesday was reported unchanged. Physicians were in constant attendance at his bedside.

Relatives stated that Mr. Candler spent a restful day, but it is reported that grave fears are entertained over his condition. Mr. Candler is confined to his bed at his home in Druid Hills.

Mr. Candler became ill several weeks ago and when his condition grew serious he was removed to Wesley Memorial hospital. After an illness of over a week he was removed to his home and was pronounced convalescent. A few days ago he suffered a relapse, said to be the result of the first illness.

GLORIA BRINGS BACK PAPERS TO PROVE TITLE

Fast Work of Lawyer Saves Movie Actress From Contempt Charge.

New York, November 4.—Gloria Swanson and her husband, or, if you will, the Marquise and Marquis de La Palaise de La Courmayeur, returned from one of their regular trips to Europe Wednesday night and neither was arrested.

Of course, nobody expected the Marquis or Hank, as he is sometimes known—to be arrested, but only the fast work of a good lawyer saved Gloria. The movie star had been held in contempt of court for failing to appear as a witness in the Janet Beecher-Dr. Richard Hoffman divorce case, and on that charge a $250 fine had been assessed against her and an order issued for her arrest.

But the lawyer obtained a stay of execution of the arrest order, which will be argued in court on the morrow. No man knows what the morrow holds, but according to the Marquis de La Courmayeur, she was never served with a summons in connection with the divorce suit and consequently she couldn't understand what the fuss was all about.

NEW YORK WIVES LAID AS TRIBUTE TO 'AL' SMITH

Walker's Plurality for Mayor More Than 400,000, While Al's Amendments Are All Carried.

DEMOCRAT CARRIES JERSEY BY 40,000

Big Damage Suit Against Louisville Paper Threatened by Republicans Accused of Fraud.

New York, November 4.—New York is musing on the unerring certainty with which its election results can be determined in advance and on the impressive new vote of confidence the city and state have given Governor Al Smith.

Tammany leaders, who had predicted that James J. Walker's majority in the mayoralty contest over Frank D. Waterman would range from 350,000 to 400,000 chuckled at the final figures gave "Jimmy" a plurality of 401,551.

An even more personal triumph for Governor Smith, which has led his enthusiastic followers to raise a new hue and cry for "Al" as the next president of the United States, was the victory of all four of the constitutional amendments which he had so vigorously supported as they went before Tuesday's referendum.

Beaten Outside of City.
Three of these amendments lost out among the voters outside New York, but here the majorities they won even exceeded that of Walker over Waterman.

Some of the amendments were more popular than others. A plurality of from 75,000 to 100,000 is predicted for the one authorizing a $10,000,000 annual bond issue for public improvements each for the next decade, while the margin will reach from 300,000 to 400,000 on the proposals for a $300,000,000 bond issue to eliminate grade crossings, reduction of elective state officers to four, and reorganization of the state judicial system.

Governor Smith had stumped the state for his amendments, taking on all challenges in public debates. The measures were regarded as very dear to his heart, his favorite being the bond issue proposal, which encountered the most opposition.

Will Reduce Elective Offices.
The amendment providing for reorganization of state departments will reduce elective offices to those of governor, lieutenant governor, comptroller and attorney general.

Most important, it consolidates the 120 state departments into 20 departments—a step by which a substantial financial saving is expected. Smith had been working for this amendment ever since he first assumed the gubernatorial chair.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE IS SAFELY DEMOCRATIC

Louisville, Ky., November 4.—(AP) Kentucky's 1926 general assembly will have a safe democratic working majority, unofficial but practically complete returns from yesterday's election disclosed tonight. The democratic party appeared to have gained one seat in the senate, but suffered several losses in the house. The lower body, however, is democratic by a good margin.

Outstanding in the upsets were the following:
Louisville, Ky., November 4.—(AP) Judge Harry D. Reed, of Waycross, was unanimously chosen district governor of Georgia Kiwanis, and Augusta was chosen as the place in which the 1926 convention will be held, at the final session held here this morning. Other officers were chosen as follows:

Basel Collins, of Waycross, was named secretary; Miller S. Bell, of Milledgeville, was re-elected treasurer, and the following lieutenant governors for the Georgia district were named: Arthur Brooks, Atlanta, northern district; G. L. Williams, Metter, eastern; George W. Jones, Albany, western; Ernest Decker, Valdosta, southern; E. T. Murray, Fort Valley, central.

The Kiwanis adopted resolutions commending the stand taken by various speakers on good roads and urging paved roads for the state and the issuance of state bonds to pay for them. Little business beyond election of officers was transacted. Numerous reports from various committees were heard.

Augusta won the next state convention only after a stiff battle with Brunswick. It was the fourth year the Augusta club had sought the convention and the delegates from that city waged a gallant battle to convince the Kiwanis that they deserved the next meet.

Depicting the history of the peacocks in allegorical form, the festival and pageant Tuesday was a scene of unlimited beauty and magnificence. Preceding it was staged the parade of the Kiwanis.

Wall Street Sees Heaviest Trading In Almost Decade

Stock Prices Soar To New High Levels, With More Than 2,800,000 Shares Traded in an Exchange.

U. S. STEEL COMMON LEADER OF ADVANCE

Prospective Cutting of "Melons" by Large Industrial Corporations Is Given as Cause of Boom.

New York, November 4.—(AP)—Wall street today experienced its greatest boom stock market in nearly ten years. Total sales were calculated by Associated Press tabulators at 2,801,000 shares, or 99,000 above the previous year's high established on October 16, and the largest since the famous "three-million share" market which followed the "leak" on President Wilson's peace note in December, 1918.

The averages of 20 leading railroad and 20 leading industrial stocks attained the highest levels in history, with more than 40 individual issues smashing their previous peak prices for the year. The advance, however, was by no means uniform, as several substantial losses were scattered throughout the list.

Steel at New High.
United States Steel common, which ordinarily fluctuates within one or two points range, was the market leader, jumping over five points to 134 1/4, the highest price since 1917, when the peak price of 138 5/8 was established. Total transactions in this one issue exceeded 160,000 shares.

The rally, like so many which have preceded it within the last few weeks, was not associated with any outstanding development in the day's news. Wall street, which is seldom without "explanations" for a price movement in either direction, was flooded with rumors that an era of "melon cutting" was in store. These apparently had their genesis in the investigation of the internal revenue bureau of the undistributed surplus of large corporations, many persons holding to the belief that a way would be found to tax these huge accumulations of capital, and that they would be distributed among stockholders in consequence.

The declaration of an extra cash dividend of $10 on the common stock of the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska seemed to fit in with these rumors. The United States Steel corporation has an undivided surplus of more than half a billion dollars, but Chairman Gary repeatedly has denied reports in recent years that it was to be capitalized through the declaration of a stock dividend. Less than a fortnight ago the directors of the corporation met and declared the regular cash dividend of $1.25 and the extra dividend of 50 cents, which has been paid quarterly for the last two years. The next dividend meeting does not take place until January 2.

Considerable interest attaches, however, to the meeting of General Motors directors on November 12, when it is expected that a generous "Christmas dividend" will be declared. Preliminary estimates range from $1 to $3 a share in cash, which, with over 5,000,000 shares outstanding, would make a sizeable distribution. General Motors stock attained a new high level today at 143 1/2 on total sales exceeding 100,000 shares. Common

JUDGE REED HEADS KIWANIS CLUBS

Augusta Wins Over Brunswick for 1926 Convention—Bonds for Paved Roads Urged.

Albany, Ga., November 4.—(AP)—Judge Harry D. Reed, of Waycross, was unanimously chosen district governor of Georgia Kiwanis, and Augusta was chosen as the place in which the 1926 convention will be held, at the final session held here this morning. Other officers were chosen as follows:

Basel Collins, of Waycross, was named secretary; Miller S. Bell, of Milledgeville, was re-elected treasurer, and the following lieutenant governors for the Georgia district were named: Arthur Brooks, Atlanta, northern district; G. L. Williams, Metter, eastern; George W. Jones, Albany, western; Ernest Decker, Valdosta, southern; E. T. Murray, Fort Valley, central.

The Kiwanis adopted resolutions commending the stand taken by various speakers on good roads and urging paved roads for the state and the issuance of state bonds to pay for them. Little business beyond election of officers was transacted. Numerous reports from various committees were heard.

Augusta won the next state convention only after a stiff battle with Brunswick. It was the fourth year the Augusta club had sought the convention and the delegates from that city waged a gallant battle to convince the Kiwanis that they deserved the next meet.

Depicting the history of the peacocks in allegorical form, the festival and pageant Tuesday was a scene of unlimited beauty and magnificence. Preceding it was staged the parade of the Kiwanis.

MOVIE ENTRIES CLOSE SATURDAY

Votes for leading lady in the Atlanta movie picture comedy which is to be made by "Slim" Brolund, famous film comedian, are coming in fast and any Atlanta girl with ambitions to star in the movies who has not yet entered the race, is advised to fill in the coupon appearing in this edition of The Constitution and get in the running at once. Otherwise she will find that some of those who entered earlier have gotten so far ahead they cannot be caught.

The list of entrants in this contest will close positively on Saturday night, it is stated.

All Atlanta girls are free to enter the contest and the one securing the largest number of votes will play the leading feminine role opposite Mr. Brolund, in the two-reel comedy feature which is to be made in this city in the near future and which is being sponsored by The Constitution. The picture will be released for showing in all the leading picture theaters of the country and will be shown in Atlanta at the Howard theater for six days. All scenes will be made in Atlanta and local people will be used exclusively for the crowd and "mob" shots.

"Slim" Brolund will start the comedy wearing an old comedy makeup of the day, when Keystone comedies were being produced by Mack Sennett. Mr. Brolund is an actor of no little ability and has had a number of years experience with some of the country's foremost comedy producers. Mr. Brolund's last engagement was with the William Fox studios, featured with Al St. John. He also was with Universal and Mack Sennett before entering the business of producer himself. He also has played upon the legitimate stage. The last Universal picture in which Mr. Brolund appeared is the famous "Hunchback of Notre Dame." The last Fox comedy in which he played was "Highly Recommended" and the last Sennett production in which he worked was "Flips Flops."

Some of the famous comedians with whom Mr. Brolund has played are Ben Turpin, famous cross-eyed funster; Al St. John, Clyde Cook, Bobby Dun, "Slim" Somerville and others.

On the stage Mr. Brolund has played with Tom Brown and the six Brown brothers with the famous Lew Dockstader and Lew Brice.

Mr. Brolund is not only an actor and producer in the moving picture world but has also achieved considerable success as an artist, cartoonist and caricaturist, and is an accomplished musician.

Although he has made his home in California, he is now planning to locate permanently in the south, but as yet has not definitely decided on the city in which he will make his home.

KIWANIANS HEAR SCHOOL OFFICIAL AT ANSLEY MEET

Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta public schools, was the principal speaker Wednesday at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Ansley hotel. Mr. Sutton spoke on "The Creative Power of Education." The attendance was good despite the fact that more than fifty members were attending the state convention of Kiwanians at Albany.

J. W. Woodward presided in the absence of President Robert H. Jones. Attendance prizes were awarded William Candler and Joe Dozier.

SUBNORMAL CHILDREN SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

Dr. Arch Elkin, prominent physician and head of the Good Shepherd's clinic, will address members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting tonight on the work his clinic is accomplishing. In addition to his talk, Dr. Elkin will display a number of stereoscopic slides to illustrate the work which deals with defective and subnormal children.

OGLESBY'S LETTER ON CROP REPORTS

Writes Senator Harris
Protesting Against Cotton Estimates and Urging Prompt Elimination

Washington, D. C., November 4.—(Special).—United States Senator William J. Harris has received the following letter from Captain J. W. Oglesby, prominent business man of Quitman, Ga., in which letter Captain Oglesby warmly approves the policy of discontinuing the government bi-monthly cotton estimate reports.

Captain Oglesby writes:
Quitman, Ga., October 28, 1925.
Dear Senator: I have just been reading a statement by Senator Cawaway, of Arkansas, in which you seem to have joined him in reference to the cotton crop estimate by the agricultural department, which you take issue with them as to the amount of cotton to be gathered this season.
Their estimate the first of September has been increased approximately one million and one-half bales from September 1 to October 15.
I am sure that these figures could not have been any such increase of a crop that time and period of the year, but it is possible that we will make fifteen million bales this season; therefore, their estimate September 1 was very misleading in so far as the semi-monthly estimate or monthly estimate, neither one, served any good purpose to anybody except cotton gamblers, and has demoralized the market and is detrimental to the entire cotton interest. I think it would be proper to give up this estimate as near as possible about the first of July as to the acreage and the crops' general condition without any estimate as to the number of bales that would be produced; simply a general statement as to whether the crop was good, medium or poor in various states, and thirty days afterward, the final crop planning reports, mostly the final crop. This army of men are entirely worthless to the farmers of the country in getting up tabulated statements in the interest of the gamblers.

By previous correspondence, of which you and Senator Cawaway will recall, something like two years ago, I wrote in regard to doing away with this gambling market. As far as I am concerned, especially if I were a farmer, I would be willing to train an 18-inch rifle on all these gambling exchanges on farm products and give the members 30 minutes to vacate them, but you cannot do away with it; they have too much money and the business is too profitable for them to allow it to stop. I want to call your attention to the fact that the planters themselves are just as much to blame as they are. The price of cotton is made without any consideration whatever to the cost of making it. It is only governed by the amount of cotton produced. In 1923 we made approximately 10,800,000 bales of cotton. It brought around $1,568,000,000. In 1924, we made 13,000,000 bales. It sold for $1,564,000,000—3,000,000 more bales of cotton and $400,000,000 less than we received for 1923 crop of 10,800,000. Now, we come to the present year in which we are supposed to make 15,000,000 bales. The market today averages 19 cents which will make this crop bring $1,444,000,000. We are selling 4,900,000 more bales this year than in 1923 when we made 10,800,000 and we are getting $524,000,000 less in money. Just think of it: giving away 4,900,000 bales and $524,000,000 as a penalty for overproduction of the actual amount of cotton which would bring cost plus a fair profit. Furthermore, this crop has been an expensive crop to make. Now next year suppose we raise 16,000,000 bales, then the farmer will not get much more than half the cost of production and that means bankruptcy of the south. Suppose we had not had a severe drought this year in certain sections. Cotton would be selling for 15c or less now. We planted 46 million acres of cotton this year. If the farmers as a whole had as much judgment as a boll weevil they certainly would not plant over 30 million next year. If we cultivated they will make twice as much profit as they would to plant another crop as big as the one this year.
In conclusion, I want to say that if you lawmakers want to do something for the country, cut out that cotton reporting business except as above stated, and start a campaign with the southern planters and everybody else interested. Show them these figures and the result of overproduction. They can work the other three days and make more money by reducing their crop than they can by working twelve hours a day to cultivate a big acreage and to make a crop that will bring less than a fair profit. I know how sincerely you are interested in the people of your country, and how vital the prosperity of the planters is to all other people of the south, and I know how hard you will be in the interest of your constituents and all the country, and I do believe that you will give very efficient service to the gamblers on farm products. If the farmer makes a big crop he gets but little for it. If he makes a small crop, he has had little to sell. It has always been so and perhaps it always will, but it's a shame that it is so and it ought to be remedied. If we can't do away with the present gambler then we will have to go to fixing a minimum of prices based on the cost of production plus a fair profit. I admit that this is an extreme and ordinarily considered unsound, but so is the present system unsound and extreme and should be remedied.
J. W. OGLESBY.

LOTTERY IS URGED AS MEANS TO RAISE MONEY FOR FRANCE

Paris, November 4.—(AP)—A nationwide lottery to extricate France from her present financial difficulties is advocated in a resolution adopted today by the Republican union, a group of senators which comprises former President Poincaré, former President Millerand, former Premier Francois-Marsal, Henry Cheron, former minister of agriculture and other notable men.
The senators emphasized the fact that they favor a lottery this one time only, and take the stand that it should not have a permanent character, allowing the government to resort to such a measure at the end of any year when it finds itself faced by a deficit.
The Republican Union has 95 members in the senate and wields an important influence in that house.

PHI DELTA THETAS WILL HAVE ALUMNI BANQUET TONIGHT

The annual alumni banquet of Phi Delta Theta national fraternity will be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the main cafe of the Ansley hotel, according to Joseph M. Clarke, Jr., secretary of the local alumni.
Judge Jesse M. Woods, of the criminal court of Atlanta, and Dr. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of the Second Baptist church, will be principal speakers.

MRS. HARRIETT SMART DIES AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Harriett Smart, 63, of 696 Peachtree street, died Tuesday night at a private sanitarium. She was the widow of Alfred G. Smart, and is survived by her son, Arthur T. Smart, of Atlanta, at whose home she had lived until her death.
Mrs. Smart was born in Virginia, near the town of Triplett, which was named for her father, Samuel Triplett. She moved to Atlanta when quite young. She was a member of Habersham chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.
Funeral services will be held from Patterson's funeral parlors at 11 o'clock this morning, with Dr. M. Ashby Jones, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church, officiating. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

W. O. PEAVY ELECTED FULTON TAX ASSESSOR

Election of W. O. Peavy as tax assessor of Fulton county to succeed James Bell whose term expired November 1, and the setting of Wednesday, November 11, as the date when salaries of various Fulton county employees will be fixed were features of the regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon of the Fulton county commission.

Mr. Peavy is a retired business man and is well known throughout the county, having been prominent in business circles of the city for more than 30 years. He formerly was a member of the firm of Scott and Peavy, which operated a meat market on Peachtree street for many years.

Dr. H. J. Penn was elected chaplain for Fulton county to succeed the late Rev. E. L. Vaughn, who died recently.
Colonel Charles Danforth, chief of aviation of the fourth corps area, appeared before the commission with Alderman W. B. Hartsfield and spoke briefly on Atlanta's opportunities in aviation upon completion of Candler field. He stated that he would be able to bring army planes here 24 hours after the field was put in shape.

Alderman Hartsfield asked the commission to appropriate $3,000 in addition to the $5,000 already appropriated for the development of the field at Hapeville to complete the additional runways required for landing of planes. He pointed out that the city and county originally appropriated $5,000 but said the city has been called on to spend an additional $3,000. He asked the commission to provide a like amount but the request was refused.

Henry M. Wood, clerk, in calling to attention of members of the commission the report of the commission for the year ending September 1, 1925, stated that the county had completed more work on streets and highways than ever before in its history.
A number of citizens of the county appeared before the body urging paving and grading of various roads and highways.

COOLIDGE CALLS IN BORAH TO DISCUSS HIS NEXT MESSAGE

Washington, November 4.—(AP)—President Coolidge today called in Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, for a discussion of the annual message he is to send to congress next month.

The chief executive and the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee were closeted for upwards of an hour, and conversation ranged over a wide field of foreign relations, as well as domestic problems.

Foreign debts, particularly those of France and Belgium, the situation in China, and Russian affairs formed the main topics of discussion in the foreign field, while the anthracite situation, farm relief and reclamation were among the more important domestic problems taken up.

JAY-CEE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE ENDS TODAY

Final reports of the drive for 500 new members will be heard at the junior chamber of commerce luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce building at noon today. Herbert B. Kennedy, colonel of the drive, stated that reports given at the report luncheon Wednesday indicated that the Jay-Cee "spl. of putting things over" will win again and there will be 500 real Atlanta boosters added to the roster.

Reports Wednesday showed that more than one-third of the 500 new members already had signed and that reports from majors who are holding out applications will boost the number still more. Division 5, headed by John M. Slaton, Jr., led in new members reported. Lance-corporal Abbott led as individual member-getter.
All new members are expected to be present at the luncheon today. A musical entertainment will be an added feature for the occasion.

NO DEMOCRATIC VOTES IN WHOLE VILLAGE

Chicago, November 4.—(AP)—Only 700 of Hobart, Ind., population of 5,000 voted at yesterday's mayoralty election and not one voted democratic. The republican ballot was the only one, and has been the only one to elect officers in Hobart since it was incorporated as a town four years ago. David Livingston was elected mayor.

STUDENTS' CONFERENCE OPENS HERE FRIDAY

Dr. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of Second Baptist church, will deliver the opening address at the world conference for students which convenes its first session Friday night in the First Baptist church on Peachtree street.

Advance registration indicates that the total enrollment will run close to 800 delegates, according to D. F. Folger, of Emory university, who is in charge of local entertainment arrangements. Indications are that practically every college and university in Georgia, South Carolina, Florida and Alabama will be represented, he said.

Kirby Page, leading authority on international questions; Mrs. Norman Sharp, president of the Atlanta Woman's club; J. W. Bergthold, traveling secretary for the Y. M. C. A., and Miss Marion Cuthbert, president of Burrell institute, were announced as speakers for Saturday sessions. In addition to addresses, forums and discussion groups in which students will participate will be held.

The Atlanta conference is one of the largest of 35 similar gatherings of college leaders being held throughout the entire nation prior to December 17, when the United States senate will open debate on the world court issue.

This intensive series of conferences is an integral part of the educational program being sponsored jointly by student departments of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. in an attempt to form more intelligent convictions on international affairs and to exert a more active influence on the formation of national policies, it is said.

Delegates will be placed in the homes of the city by the Atlanta Woman's club. Atlanta's not members of the club who desire to entertain one or more students for the two nights of the conference are requested to communicate with D. F. Folger, Emory university.

FLORIDIANS OBTAIN ATLANTA PROPERTY

Evidence that Florida investors are turning their eyes toward Atlanta with the view of making investments here is seen in the sale of the Police more apartments, at Ponce de Leon and Moreland avenues, and the Bennett apartments, at 416 North Boulevard, to C. A. Simpson and R. C. Simpson, of Monticello, Fla., which was announced Wednesday by the Grant-Jeter company. The amount involved in the transaction was said to be $553,000.

R. P. Robinson, of Forest City, N. C., owner of the two apartment buildings, has taken as part payment an 1,800-acre tract of pecan land at Pecan City, near Albany, with 800 acres in pecans, it was announced. This land is valued at $177,000.

Amusements

The Atlanta Theater.

"I Want To Be Happy, But I Won't Be Happy Till I've Made You Happy, Too," one of the most captivating and stirring melodramas heard here in many a day, is being hummed and whistled and sung everywhere in town. This song, together with the equally appealing melody, "Ten for Two," are among the features that have made the musical comedy triumph. "No, No, Nanette," the talk of the town. The engagement is limited to two weeks only with the night performances scheduled at 8:15 sharp and the Saturday matinee at 2:15.

Coming to the Atlanta.

Mystery plays in general are aporously travestied in "The Gorilla," which will be the attraction at the Atlanta theater throughout the coming week with matinee Wednesday and Saturday. This unique entertainment created a whirlwind of excitement during its successful runs in New York, Chicago and London, where critics proclaimed it the most screaming, and furiously funny show staged in a long time. In presenting a mystery drama in a farcical manner it is said to completely eclipse "Seven Keys to Baldpate" and "The Tarn." Depicting a satire and its tragedy, it has also many thrills, and plenty of exciting situations. Seats go on sale today at the Atlanta theater box office, open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Loew's Grand.

The new type dancing revue of the Marcus Sisters and Carlton assisted by Don Armand is the headline attraction on the bill at Loew's Grand theater this week and the entire bill from opening number to headline attraction is scoring a pronounced success. Five people present the dancing revue which serves to introduce a distinct novelty in dancing numbers. Other attractions on the bill are Gus King's "Melodrama," Bob Yates and Evelyn Carson appear in an attractive little skit "Getting Soaked," Elly, a little woman juggler and West, Gates and Kahn are three resourceful comedians and dancers. Loew's picture is "Where Was I?"

Keith's Forsyth.

Apprenticeship vaudeville bill at the Forsyth for the last half of the week begins today with Emmett Gilfoyle and Elsie Lange as the headline attraction. Comedy of a stellar variety is interspersed with gorgeous costumes and the personality of this team of musical comedy stars makes of this feature an offering of merit. Kola Sylvia and company, presenting dancing creations and musical interpretations, is a pretentious act in which every element of good entertainment is combined. Ward Brothers have a "nut" act billed as "Penny Ante," a typical diversion which is sure to please. Elmer El Cleve, a wizard on the xylophone, and Karl and Rovein, a rube acrobatic turn, complete the program.

The Rialto.

The interesting announcement that the Sunshine Kiddies from Hollywood, famous troupe of child actors ranging in age from 3 to 14 years will present their act in connection with the showing of Harold Bell Wright's "A Son of His Father" at the Rialto theater next week was made by Manager W. T. Murray Wednesday night.

The Metropolitan.

There is no screen star who can rival Richard Barthelmess in the variety and scope of characterizations he essays. Fans though he had exhausted every possibility recently when he appeared on the silver sheet as a West Point cadet and as a "gob," but now "Dick" is to be seen in a role decidedly original—that of a young Italian flower seller—"The Beautiful City," at the Metropolitan theater. Morton Downey, the young American tenor of the Paul Whiteman band, is pleasing the music lovers of Atlanta. A Mack Sennett comedy completes the program.

The Howard.

"The Pony Express" which is now being shown at the Howard theater, is a genuine thriller. It was directed by James Cruze, who produced "The Covered Wagon," and, if anything, it is better than its predecessor. Four popular screen players, who are popular with Atlanta movie fans, are featured in "The Pony Express." They are Betty Compson, Ricardo Cortez, Ernest Torrence and Wallace Beery. A newcomer, George Bancroft, gives a remarkably fine portrayal of the role of "bad man."

STONE MOUNTAIN COIN DISTRIBUTIONS ARE TAX EXEMPT

Washington, November 4.—(AP)—Solicitor Gregg of the internal revenue bureau in an informal ruling has held that half of the amount expended in the purchase of the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial association coins may be taken as a contribution to the association and therefore exempt from income tax. The solicitor's opinion, "ad in response to inquiries, offered no comment and gave no reasons for the fixing of 50 cents of each dollar expended as such an amount that may be deducted.

Trainmen, Conductors Approve Restoration War Wage Levels

Chicago, November 4.—(AP)—Proposals centering on restoration of wartime wage levels were approved late today by the western joint association of general chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors.

The increase contemplated in such a proposal would involve more than $25,000,000 a year when applied to more than 200,000 men in yard and train service.

This action is believed to be the first in a reopening by the transportation brotherhoods and other national railroad organizations of their campaign of 1923 and 1924, which sought an increase of 12 per cent and culminated in an increase of about five.

WILLIAM J. GRIZZARD DIES IN DECATUR

William Joseph Grizzard, 77, of Decatur, Ga., died at the residence Wednesday night. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Roger E. Little, of Decatur, Ga.; Mrs. T. G. Hucks, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. P. H. Dennis, of Sioux City, Iowa; two sons, L. E. Grizzard, of Chicago, and J. O. Grizzard, of Augusta, Ga.; one sister, Mrs. E. I. Fayers, of Atlanta, and two brothers, A. R. Grizzard, of Snellville, Ga., and R. B. Grizzard, of Bowdon, Ga.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon from the church of Greenburg & Bond, and interment will be in West View cemetery.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY VISITS NEW PLANT

John A. Wayt, manager of the research and service department of the American Bakeries company, was principal speaker at a banquet Tuesday night at the company's New South bakery. Members of the Georgia section of the American Chemical society, with their wives and friends, were honored guests. J. H. Montague, manager of the bakery, and W. H. Sutton, assistant purchasing agent, made addresses of welcome. L. E. Rogers, secretary of the American Bakeries company, outlined the progress made by the baking industry during a tour of the plant.

WIRELESS OPERATORS STRIKE IS ENDED

London, November 4.—(AP)—The strike of the Marconi wireless operators and receiving clerks in London, Liverpool, and Manchester ended today with the reinstatement of the nine operators who had been dismissed for reasons of economy. The strike crippled transatlantic and transatlantic wireless communication.

The government wireless service was not affected by the walkout, which involved about 150 men.

BUTLER TO RESUME GARAGE BUSINESS

Announcement is made that Bina C. Butler will resume business today at 52-55-58 Houston street, opening one of the most modern and fully equipped storage and service garages in the city. The new enterprise will be known as the Central Storage Garage, and is located between Ivy and Courtland streets, in the steel garage building recently erected by P. C. McDuffie company. This is one of the largest garage buildings in the city, having a storage capacity for 125 cars on the street level and containing over 15,000 square feet of floor space. The building is thoroughly modern and fireproof, with all necessary equipment to give perfect service.

Mr. Butler recently has been in Florida, but realizing the many advantages offered in Atlanta, has returned to reestablish business at his old location, where for a long time he served a large number of friends who will be pleased to learn that he is again in position to serve them. He is one of the best known garage men in the city.

The housing and parking problem confronting the city makes the opening of a service and storage station the size of this one of special interest to the public. An interesting feature of the location is the fact that it is only a short walk from the Candler building with main traffic arteries leading to and from the business section.

AGED WOMAN DIES AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

Mrs. E. J. Kates, 80, died at 7 o'clock Wednesday night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. T. Kates, at 3 o'clock North Main street, where she had made her home for a number of years.

Mrs. Kates was the widow of the late E. J. Kates, who was in the transfer business in Atlanta 25 years ago.

She is survived by three daughters: Mrs. W. T. Kates, and Mrs. T. F. McCandless, of Washington, D. C., a son, Elliott Kates, of Atlanta, and several grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Barclay & Brandon.

ADJOURNED SESSION OF COUNCIL TODAY

Business left unfinished at the meeting of council Monday will be considered at an adjourned session of that body to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in council chamber at the city hall. Immediately after the session of council is ended the aldermanic board will consider business transacted at both the Monday and Thursday meetings.

Several reports of committees were not reached in the regular order of business Monday and will be taken up at the meeting this afternoon.

MUSKOGON FORGETS FAMOUS GUNMAN TO BURY OFFICER

Muskogon, Mich., November 4.—(AP)—Muskogon forgot George ("Dutch") Anderson today while it buried Detective Charles Hammond.

In the Central Methodist church, not 200 feet from the spot where Hammond cornered the notorious Anderson Saturday night and shot him dead, funeral services were held today. More than 10,000 persons are estimated to have passed by the Hammond bier since the body lay in state.

Anderson, whom the walls of the Atlanta federal penitentiary could not hold, lies unguarded now at another end of the city. The police department has wired the warden of the penitentiary that it is ready to turn over to him the body of the man for whose capture the warden had offered a $500 reward. Pending word from Atlanta, the authorities are uncertain what disposition will be made of the body of this gunman and pal of Gerald Chapman, the super-criminal.

Secret service operatives who were here believe the body may be claimed by some attorney or woman.

"No member of Anderson's gang ever went to the potter's field," George Tate, secret service man of Toledo, Ohio, said.

To the ladies who drive

AN increasing number of local women drivers are becoming regular users of Pan-Am Service, and of this fact we are very proud. If our service stations satisfy the discriminating ideas of the ladies, we feel confident that we are doing business along a line that is right for mere man.

Madam: There are three reasons, other than the fact that we sell only high-grade products, that seem to warrant us in asking you to make a trial of Pan-Am service.

One is the especial care taken to keep our service stations spick and span.

Second, the promptness with which your wants are attended to. And this includes attentiveness to such things as water in your radiator, air in a tire, or dust removed from your windshield.

Third, courtesy. This is a matter of spirit rather than acts. It is hard to describe, but it is easy to recognize.

May we look forward to a call from you?

HINMAN APPEALS FOR LARGE GIFTS

Will the wealthy citizens of Atlanta come to the aid of the Community Chest this year as rich residents of other cities have done? This is the question facing the special committee of the chest campaign of which Dr. Thomas B. Hinman is chairman and which Wednesday began canvassing the city for contributions of the usual large givers and all new ones that can be brought in.

According to Dr. Hinman, 64 Atlantans should contribute gifts ranging from $5,000 down to $1,000 each. Last year there were 50 such gifts. In a letter sent to approximately 1,000 of the leading citizens of Atlanta, Dr. Hinman pointed out that in the number and amounts of gifts of $1,000 and over Atlanta falls far behind other cities operating Community Chests.

"In order to meet this average," Dr. Hinman said, "Atlanta must have nine gifts of $5,000 and over. Last year we had two gifts of $5,000, none over that. If we receive nine gifts as follows, one $10,000, one $7,500, two $6,000, five $5,000, it will make an average of $6,055 per gift in this group, as compared with an average of $3,000 per gift in a list of 63 communities analyzed.

"If we have nine such gifts and receive the following contributions from $1,000 to $4,000 our problem will be met: One $4,000, two $3,000, five $2,500, eight $2,000, 20 $1,500, 32 $1,000."

Dr. Hinman called attention to the fact that latest statistics indicate that only 15 cities with a population of more than 100,000 are not now employing the Community Chest plan for financing local philanthropic work. There are, he said, 251 cities of over 30,000 population and 138 of them are using the Community Chest plan.

Funeral services for James Jackson Jones, 62, of 328 Gordon street, who died suddenly Monday at St. Petersburg, Fla., will be held at 10 o'clock this morning from the residence, with the Rev. Wallace Rogers officiating. Barclay & Brandon are in charge of arrangements and interment will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Jones is survived by his widow; two sons, James and Robert, of Atlanta; a grandson, James Jackson Jones III, and a sister and a niece who live in Redlands, Calif.

WHITEHURST SOUGHT UPON REQUISITION

Requisition on the state of Alabama was issued Wednesday at the office of Governor Clifford Walker for Walter Whitehurst, wanted in Wilkinson county on a charge of abandonment of a minor child.

Governor Walker also honored a requisition from South Carolina for return to that state of Bibb Holding, alias W. R. Bolden, alias Frank Davis, alias Frank Mason, wanted in Greenville county, S. C., for larceny of an automobile.

Bolding is now completing a sentence at the state prison farm at Milledgeville, where he is known under the name of Frank Mason, alias Frank Davis. He was sentenced to eight months in Bibb county for larceny from the house and began serving his sentence last December 13. He escaped in February and therefore, will complete his Georgia sentence on November 17. He then will be returned to South Carolina to face charges against him there.

How the League's Big Stick Stopped a Balkan War

THE OLD WAR-TORN WORLD has swung into a new epoch at last, and a new chapter in human history has begun, say experienced editorial observers as they see two Balkan belligerents actually stop a war at the command of the League of Nations. It is taken, too, as a heartening sequel to the peace-pledge of Locarno when a word of command from the League can quench a flaming fuse of conflict in that ever-menacing powder-magazine of tangled racial hates and fierce national rivalries.

The New York World declares that "today, for the first time within the memory of man, the great Western Powers have stood united on a Balkan question, and for the first time when they commanded peace the Balkans obeyed."

The importance of the ultimatum which the League of Nations issued to Greece and Bulgaria can scarcely be exaggerated, says the New York Times, which welcomes it as evidence that "we are living in a new epoch" in which hereafter "the advance of strong and enlightened nations may be achieved without the maiming and slaughter of the nations' best and bravest." And continues the Times: "Today those of little faith are asking what the authority of the League would have come to if, instead of disarmed Bulgaria and exhausted Greece, the belligerents had been Powers of the first order. The answer is the treaties of Locarno."

On the other hand, there is a note of skepticism sounded in some quarters of America. For instance, in the Washington Post we read: "The spectacle of the League of Nations shutting its eyes and ears to the Moroccan and Syrian wars, while forbidding Greece and Bulgaria to fight, is a striking illumination of the fact that the League is merely a machine for manipulation of European affairs by the Great Powers."

The Literary Digest this week, the November 7th number, is liberally devoted to a comprehensive review of the uprising in the Balkans. It shows what caused it, where the fighting took place, and how and why hostilities ceased so abruptly. By means of translation from the newspapers of the affected countries in the Balkans, one is able to obtain a "close-up" of how the peoples of these nations view a security pact against war. These articles are copiously illustrated with cartoons and a map.

Prophets and Proofs of Prosperity in America

THE BELIEF IN PROSPERITY which sustains the present boom in Wall Street seems to be shared by practically every authority in the business and financial world. Sir Robert Horne, a frequent visitor here, leaves our shores declaring that he has never before seen "the real prosperity there is today in every form of finance, industry, and trade," a prosperity not confined to the wealthy, but extending to every one, and with nothing in sight that can stop it. Henry Ford predicts "a century of prosperity." Elbert H. Gary tells us "we are on the verge of a great era of prosperity," and other steel leaders agree with him. Bank presidents—including President

Mitchell, of the National City Bank, New York—and Chambers of Commerce throughout the country, are equally optimistic.

But all these prosperity prophecies need tempering with sobriety, insists the Newark News, which remarks: "Just what this ballyhoo over long-continued prosperity is all about may be as uncertain as the meaning of Florida's real-estate boom." As an offset, it reminds us of statements that we have too many coal-mines and too many miners, too many textile mills and textile workers, and, with all this, agitation from big employers to let in more workers. So, "all these things introduce a note of sobriety to tone down the exaltations of the Fords and Mitchells."

WILL SEND VISITORS TO STONE MOUNTAIN

Stone Mountain will be visited Monday by 100 delegates to the annual convention of the American Association of Railway Ticket Agents when they stop over in Atlanta on their way to the meeting in St. Petersburg, Fla.

The visit of the ticket agents is regarded as a big publicity feature for Atlanta, because of their daily contact with millions of travelers all over the country. The trip to Stone Mountain is being arranged by the Atlanta Convention and Tourist Bureau with the cooperation of automobile-owning Atlantans.

The visitors will be guests of the bureau at breakfast before going to Stone Mountain. Due to the great size of the delegation, it will be divided into three units for breakfast, as follows: One group at the Atlanta Biltmore under the charge of Colonel Frederick J. Paxson, another at the Ansley hotel with W. T. Perkins in charge, and the third at the Ruse & Cason cafe with B. S. Barker in charge.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

Party of Railway Executives Inspects Improvement Program of Southern System on Visit to Atlanta

Here for the purpose of inspecting improvements which have been made during the past two years by the Southern railway, officials of that company, headed by President Fairfax Harrison, and including leading figures in financial life of the nation, spent Wednesday in Atlanta. The distinguished guests were entertained at luncheon at the Druid Hills Golf club and attended a reception given in their honor at the Biltmore hotel Wednesday evening. They left for Birmingham Wednesday night.

President Harrison stated the party was deeply impressed with the progress made in the south during the past two years and were confident that the next few years would witness one of the most remarkable booms in this section that the country has ever experienced.

The Southern has spent much money in Atlanta during the past two years, chiefly at the new shops recently completed and development which the entire party inspected these developments and was pleased with the work done, it was stated.

"We have no definite announcements to make as to future plans," said President Harrison, "but, of course, will continue the program of expansion and development which we believe is essential to handle the rapidly-growing volume of business in the southern territory our lines serve."

Played Golf.
Following the luncheon given the visitors at the Druid Hills Golf club, at which time they met many of Atlanta's leading men in business and professional life, the party played a round of golf on the Druid Hills course. The party was onlookers at an exhibition match staged between Bobby Jones and Watts Gunn.

In addition to President Harrison, the party included Devereaux Milburn, of New York, international famous as a polo player and a director in the Southern system.

The visiting directors started the day by inspecting the new engine terminal and coach yard at North avenue and the new locomotive-erecting shop at Windsor street, which the Southern has completed in Atlanta at a cost of approximately $2,000,000 as part of the $20,000,000 improvement program which it has carried out at strategic points on its lines during the last two years.

Other Major Projects.
Other major projects in the program were the erection of new locomotive and car repair shops at Birmingham, a new passenger and freight car shops at Spartanburg, S. C., a new freight terminal at Knoxville, Tenn., including a four-mile double track belt line—a new classification yard and engine terminal at Asheville, N. C., a new round house at Spencer, N. C., and a new classification yard at Chattanooga. Work has just begun on a new classification yard at Chattanooga.

The new locomotive-erecting shop which the Southern has built in Atlanta makes its "south shops" one of the most modern facilities of its kind to be found anywhere. The old main shop buildings were converted into auxiliary buildings, the arrangement being such that all can be used as a part of one harmoniously-arranged plant.

The new engine terminal and coach yard at North avenue has proved a great help, as it has reduced the haul on "dead" trains by several miles and has thus reduced the load on some of the most congested tracks in the Atlanta terminal district. Facilities at North avenue include a modern roundhouse, mechanical coal chute, water supply system, boiler washing plant, and other auxiliaries.

Visit Stone Mountain.
The visitors went in a body to Stone Mountain Wednesday morning to view work done there on the Confederate memorial. They were interested in the project to the extent of abbreviating some of the features of their program for the day. At Stone Mountain they were supplied with literature prepared especially for their visit by Robert B. Pegram, Atlanta, vice president of the Southern, in operation with the Stone Mountain Memorial association. All the visitors expressed special interest in the work in the coin sale and all other features of the memorial. At the Biltmore they saw the model of Luke-man for the central group.

"It is very gratifying to learn on our visit to Atlanta that the Stone Mountain memorial is going ahead with such bright promise of success," President Harrison stated. "We had the pleasure of seeing the sketch model of the sculptor and of visiting Stone Mountain. This wonderful project deserves, and I am sure, will continue to have, the loyal support of every patriotic southerner."

After inspecting the company's properties at Birmingham the party will go to Spartanburg, S. C., and other points where improvements in equipment and conveniences have recently been completed, it was stated. It is traveling by special train and left Washington on Tuesday.

Others in the party included L. E. Jeffries, vice president and general counsel of the Southern railway and formerly of Selma, Ala.; Henry W. Miller, vice president in charge of operation of the Southern railway, formerly located in Atlanta; T. S. Winn, vice president of the Southern; R. H. Oliver, vice president in charge of the traffic of the Southern and formerly of Atlanta; J. B. Munson, vice president of the Southern with residence in Cincinnati; Harrell P. Callaway, a director of the A. C. & S. railway and formerly located in Macon; Robert Mallory, Jr., prominent New York financier; Triplett Hazlett, John Redwood and T. Nelson Strickler, all of Baltimore, Md., and directors in the G. S. & F. railway; Ernest Lewis, of New York, a director of the Mobile & Ohio railway; Ernest E. Norris, of St. Louis, vice president of the M. & O., and formerly of Atlanta; E. L. Roosevelt, of New York, a director of the M. & O.; Gaspar P. Bacon, of Boston, a director of the Southern railway; Jonathan Bryan, of Richmond, a director of the Southern.

Guy Carey, of New York, a director of the Southern; Walter S. Case, of New York, a director of the Southern; Robert Jenkinson, of Birmingham, a director of the Southern; Jeremiah Milbank, of New York, a director of the Southern; Jackson K. Reynolds, of New York, director of the Southern; Richard S. Reynolds, of Louisville, a director of the Southern; Lindsey Hopkins, prominent Atlanta capitalist; Eppa Hunton, of Richmond, president of the B. F. & P. railway; H. R. Kurrin, of Chicago, president of the Monon route; L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson railway and the Kansas City Southern; U. D. Maher, chairman of the board of Norfolk and Western railway; Samuel Rhea, retired president and chairman of the board of the Pennsylvania railway; Arthur V. Thompson, well known financier; Henry Walters, chairman of the board of Atlantic Coast Line and L. & N. railways; Ernest Williams, prominent banker of Lynchburg, Va.

Property-Owners Must Pay Ponce de Leon Paving Cost, Judge Humphries Decides

Property owners on Ponce de Leon avenue must pay for the paving on the street laid by the MacDougald Construction company, according to a ruling Wednesday afternoon by Judge John D. Humphries in Fulton superior court.

The decision followed a three-day hearing on an injunction filed by certain property owners on Ponce de Leon avenue asking a restraining order to prevent the city of Atlanta from assessing approximately $130,000 with which to pay the MacDougald Construction company for the paving of the street.

Judge Humphries, upon conclusion of the argument, held that under the law the interest of any city councilman in the contracting company would void the contract as far as any money payable out of the city treasury would be concerned, but that this would not affect the liability of property owners who had received the benefits of the paving, and that their liability could be enforced against them.

Hearing on a petition filed by property owners was begun Monday and Tuesday was devoted to the conclusion of evidence. Attorney E. E. Pomeroy, representing the property owners, opened arguments in the case Wednesday morning. He was followed by Mark Bolling, representing the MacDougald Construction company, who laid the paving and who also was made a defendant with the city of Atlanta. The closing argument was made by City Attorney James L. Mayson.

The plaintiffs contended that inasmuch as Ed Inman was a stockholder in the MacDougald Construction company and a member of the city council when the paving contract was awarded, the entire contract was void and the construction company could not collect any more money from any of the property holders for paving of the street.

Under the decision of Judge Humphries, the contention of the defendant company was sustained, because it is making no claim against the city for money, its claim being exclusively against the property owners affected by the paving. This liability is represented by assessments on a front foot basis against this property.

Ninety per cent of the property owners affected by the payment have voluntarily paid their assessments, and the ruling of the court holds that those who have not voluntarily paid will have to do so.

Will Levy Fund.
Judge Humphries directed that the city levy the assessments against the property owners, keep the money in a separate fund and use it to pay the construction company.

Attorneys for the property owners who sought to enjoin the city from collecting approximately $30,000 assessments and from paying the construction company, will appeal the case to the supreme court, it was announced.

The property owners were represented by Attorneys E. E. Pomeroy, E. W. Martin and former Mayor James L. Key, while Attorneys Albert Howell, Spaulding, MacDougald and Sibley, represented the defendants.

Grange Was No Star During High School Days

He Was Thrown for Loss Several Times by Measles And Various Accidents

Note—This is the third of a series of articles, authorized by Red Grange, twice all-American Illinois flash and greatest individual football player of the present age, relating the story of his colorful life.

BY JAMES BRADEN,

Former Yale and All-American Fullback.

"This is my real story. I have authorized it for publication."—Harold Grange.

(Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Red Grange's manner of life during his grade-school days was about that of the average normal, healthy, growing boy in a small town. He, like many other boys of his age and of all ages, was not wildly enthusiastic about the intellectual side of the classroom. Lessons were something to be done and put away for the more important affairs, after school let out for the day. Football was played by the boys in the fall and sides were chosen to scrimmage.

The names of certain western luminaries began to creep into his circle of consciousness. Wyman and Baskin of Minnesota, and Bart Macomber and Potay Clark of Illinois became his heroes and he attempted to reproduce their acts on the vacant lot football field which he and his associates used.

One afternoon when the play was particularly fierce and many of the older boys were playing, venturesome Red got in the road of juggernaut meele and was kicked in the spine. He was not able to sit down for a week and his thoughts of the game which would place him in such a situation were pessimistic. His father encouraged him to continue, however, and the young man went back for more, but determined to be more agile the next time.

He says of that period: "The flesh near my eyes was always getting out open by some freak of the game in those days and I remember how often the doctor had to sew me up."

Was No Star.

If he had been a boy star on the gridiron, such matters would have been dismissed with a gesture. The thrill of being outstanding would have overcome some slight inconvenience of being a pin cushion for a surgeon. But no such luck was with Red Grange. He was no star. He was a rear rank private.

At times his boyish soul rebelled at the thought of more of that physical punishment of the football field, but he kept on because he had started it. His father encouraged him, and his gang all played. After the fall season was over, Red really enjoyed himself on the basketball court.

Again the interest of the church in affairs of growing boys helped him and his gang. There was a church basketball league. The practice place was in the hayloft of one of the team members.

Some of Grange's ability to dodge, to weave a broken field, was undoubtedly picked up in those early basketball games, for a good cage game player develops to a remarkable degree the sixth sense of feeling the nearness of an opponent without seeing him.

The milestones of grammar school life are remembered with vividness by most boys long after the crowns of later life are covered with dust.

Career Interrupted.

Red was interrupted in the enjoyment of his athletic pursuits twice during this period. One afternoon he was "fooling around" with a pair of roller skates and conceived the idea that to stroke fast down hill would produce a feeling akin to flying. He found the right hill, but when going at top speed down the flagstone sidewalk he came to one of those street crossings with curbs. The result of the attempt kept him indoors two weeks.

The street crossing and measles accounted for five weeks of enforced idleness with nothing to do but watch the other boys play outside, and he has never forgotten them. The chances are that if some opponent should shout "measles" at Grange he would be so upset that he could hardly continue the game.

In those days just previous to high school, he went through the gamut of what the average boy goes through in a small town. The wagon construction days, the historic attempts in a wild west circus, riding with the grocery boy on his delivery route, and caddying on the golf links filled Red Grange's days to the brim. He gave up the caddying proposition after one enthusiastic attempt. The first day he went 72 holes, staggering under a devotee's club, and found that he had no further interest in the matter.

The lessons of democracy and equality instilled in Grange during those days have stuck with him today. Of the hundreds of letters he receives, mostly for game tickets, those from his old-time playmates are given first consideration. Like Bill Tilden, he has but to be appealed to by some boy and all reserve and dignity breaks down.

FRANKLIN CITIZENS REQUEST ELECTION FOR ROAD BONDS

Carnesville, Ga., November 4.—(Special).—At a mass meeting of Franklin county citizens held here Tuesday resolutions were enthusiastically adopted calling upon the county authorities to call an election for the purpose of voting upon an issue of $225,000 road bonds. Of that amount $100,000 would be used on the county system of roads and the remainder to match state and federal funds in paving the Stone Mountain and Bankhead highways, both of which pass through the county.

Judge E. A. Phillips, ordinary, stated after the mass meeting that an election will be called immediately, and it is probable that the election will be held between the first and fifth of December.

Grange Proves His Greatness

Under the heap is "Red" Grange. The photo was snapped as he carried over the second of the three touchdowns he contributed to the 24-to-2 victory for Illinois over Pennsylvania, proving that he is worthy of his twice-won all-American berth.

$1,000 IS OFFERED BEST CORN PRODUCER

In an effort to stimulate corn production in Georgia, H. Lane Young, executive manager of the Citizens and Southern bank, Wednesday announced a prize of $1,000 to be given the farmer of this state who has the highest yield on five acres during the coming year.

There are a number of conditions attached to the prize offer in order that interest in the contest will be more widespread. The offer provides that contests must be conducted in over 75 Georgia counties and that each of the counties involved also shall offer small prizes to winners.

Mr. Young intends showing by the contest that high yields of corn can be grown at profit on Georgia lands and expects to prove that yields of from 50 to 100 bushels per acre can be raised with profit to the farmers.

BASS TO ADDRESS PALESTINE MASONS

Charles L. Bass, past grand master of Georgia Masons, will be principal speaker at a smoker to be given Friday night by Palestine lodge of Atlanta at the Masonic temple. Mr. Bass is well known among Georgia Masons.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Howard quartet, and other local stars.

Drinkwater Shows Unique Personality as Lecturer

There was never a lecturer more nonchalant or naturally himself than John Drinkwater, English poet and dramatist, who spoke under the auspices of the Atlanta Drama League, at the Women's Club auditorium Wednesday night. Mr. Drinkwater is essentially natural upon the platform and it is almost as interesting to study the character which he unconsciously discloses by his mannerisms and habits of thought, as it is to listen to the intensely fascinating disquisition upon the nature of drama, which he makes the subject of his lecture.

The Women's Club auditorium was filled to capacity to hear the distinguished man of letters and while the pronounced English of his voice may have sounded strange to some of his hearers, yet the purity of his diction and the charm of his language surely made his utterances simple for every intelligent mind to understand.

Mr. Drinkwater opened his lecture by reading a few of his own poems. Personally the two little poems about the old farmer and the old woman, simple characters of the English countryside, carried the greatest appeal, but the lady-writer-by-me said she liked the prayer poem that he read first, best of them all.

Attacks "Star" System. Great drama is produced, said Mr. Drinkwater, only when actors of the stage sink their own personalities for the presentation of genuine works of dramatic art. When the actor makes his own personality paramount the dramatist sinks to the level of the playwright, art deserts the stage and only hack vehicles for the exploitation of stars remain.

ALABAMIANS CUT IN ATTACK HERE, THEY TELL DOCTORS

Claiming that he was attacked by three men whose identity he did not disclose, D. V. Pressley, 22, of Dawson, Ala., was carried to Grady hospital early Wednesday night with a deep wound in the head and several cuts on his face.

Pressley did not tell doctors where the encounter took place and police had no report of the incident late Wednesday night.

Marvin Smith, 21, also of Dawson, Ala., was treated for a cut on the right arm. He gave no information as to how he was injured.

RAIN IS PREDICTED

Temperature Around 50 Is Expected by Forecaster.

Rain today accompanied by warmer weather is predicted by the local weather bureau. The lowest temperature Wednesday morning was 40; the highest, 50. Temperature around 50 is predicted for this morning.

MAN'S LEG BROKEN WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Knocked to the pavement Wednesday night by an automobile as he crossed Decatur street, S. V. Boyce, 70, of 218 Berean avenue, had his leg broken and received several bruises about the shoulders and head. Boyce was carried to Grady hospital.

No report of this accident has been filed at police station and the name of the driver of the machine had not been learned late Wednesday night.

W. & A. COMMISSION MEETS NOVEMBER 13

Chairman C. Murphy Candler, of the Western and Atlantic railroad commission, has called a meeting of that body for Friday, November 13, despite all hazards and howlers associated with the day. The meeting will be in the office of the Georgia public service commission.

The meeting will plan for appearance of representatives of the commission in Chattanooga December 1 to protest against arbitrary fixing of damages for condemnation of a portion of the state-owned railroad terminals in that city. The Chattanooga board of review is to meet Tuesday, December 1.

DUGAN SIGNS TO MEET REED

Knoxville, Tenn., November 4.—(Special).—Announcement was made here today that Billy Dugan, sensational Georgia heavyweight, and Wild Bill Reed, of Ohio, have been matched for the eight-round main go. of the American legion card to be staged here November 16.

Dugan will have a real chance to prove his ability as a fast-moving heavyweight when he meets Reed, for the Ohioan has fought all of the top heavyweights and is considered a right proposition for any fighter.

Dugan during the last two years has gained a reputation for windmill action that is seldom found in the heavyweight division. With his speed he carries a punch that has hung up a long string of knockout victories.

Idolatry Wave Blamed by Rader For Disobedience

Pleading against what he termed a tidal wave of self-idolatry that is destroying obedience to parental, governmental and divine control, Rev. Paul Rader, evangelist, Wednesday night after a "Young People's night," carried a punch that has hung up a long string of knockout victories.

"You have been poisoned with the belief that your lives are your own and that you have a right to run your own lives as you wish," he told his hearers. "And for fear that some power you do not understand will make you submit, you assail and criticize and sneer at authority, even the authority of God."

"You are like the burglar I caught at my sideboard in my house, stealing my silverware and he tried to shoot me," the evangelist declared. "You are going about in a body God gave you, thinking with a brain God gave you, voicing your egotism with a mouth God gave you and when you think you see God coming you are afraid he is coming to take back that which is His and you try to shoot Him. You try to shoot Him with your infidelity and your denial of Him, as truly as the burglar tried to shoot me with bullets for coming to claim what was my own."

The evangelist reviewed his own battle with doubt. He had held the simple faith implanted at the family altar of the Methodist minister who was his father until he went to college and began to mix with doubters and skeptics, he said.

The evangelist will carry his campaign to the younger generation outside the walls of the church today with an appearance before the junior chamber of commerce at its regular luncheon. He appeared Tuesday at the Lions' club luncheon.

The full membership of the Southside Civic league is to attend the service at 7:30 o'clock tonight. It was announced Wednesday by Mrs. J. E. Andrews, president.

Rev. Marvin Williams, who with Rev. Luke Rader, brother of the evangelist, is assisting in the revival announced Wednesday night that Paul Rader's presence here was assured only through tonight and Friday night as he has not yet been able to secure a preacher to fill his pulpit at the Chicago Gospel Tabernacle, Sunday Services at noon, at 3 o'clock and at 7:30 o'clock will continue Thursday and Friday at least.

STUDENT OVERCOME BY HEATER FUMES TREATED AT GRADY

Poisoned from the fumes of a kerosene oil heater, Cecil Cohen, 25, of 1441 North Jackson street, fainted in his room early Wednesday night and had to be carried to Grady hospital for treatment.

Doctors said he was suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning and after treatment he was allowed to return to his home.

He told doctors that he was seated in his room studying and that the heater was burning. That was the last he remembered until he regained consciousness en route to the hospital.

TECH'S TURNER WEEK IS GREAT SUCCESS

Georgia Tech's annual Gene Turner campaign, the school's contribution for better conditions in China, has just closed with more money collected than any previous year, it was announced Wednesday.

The work Gene Turner did at Georgia Tech forms a definite part of the every-day life of the Tech man. Gene Turner, as the first Y. M. C. A. secretary, is largely responsible for the raising of Tech's present athletic teams. He started the Glee club, the Technique, the Blue Print, and nearly all other activities. He now is in China, devoting his life to the student welfare there.

"I'll Start First Team," Says Alexander; Wycoff May Remain on Sidelines

BY GEORGE CONGDON.

Thirty-four players of the varsity squad of Georgia Tech will entrain tonight for Nashville and the 1925 clash with Vanderbilt's Commodores there Saturday. Only 33 men who may get in the game will be in the squad, for the 34th is Six Carpenter, now wearing a plaster cast on his right leg from an injury received in the Alabama game.

The scrub team will follow the varsity to Nashville and men from it will be used if Tech is able to roll up a safe margin of touchdowns.

"I'll start my first team, all right," Coach Alexander said Wednesday night after a tough scrimmage of the reserves against Vanderbilt formations, "but darned if I can tell now who will be on my first team."

That was my first team I started against Notre Dame—it was the best team I could put in the field with so many cripples.

"Now I can't tell whether Wycoff will be able to play in the Vanderbilt game. The other back who isn't able to do much now in practice is Bo Read. He hurt his knee a bit yesterday, but he may be all right after a few days. I don't think it's anything serious."

The Squad.

The squad that Coach Alexander will take on the train with him at 8 o'clock tonight includes: Ends—Marshall, Merkle, Crowley, Irwin, J. Murray, McDaniel. Tackles—Tharpe, Hearn, Fair, Hood, Cooper, Carpenter. Guards—Godwin, Forrester, Angley, Martin, Gaston.

Centers—Pool, Elliot, Thrash. Quarterbacks—Williams, McRae, Manget.

Right Halfbacks—Barron, Brewer, Sprick, Lillard.

Fullbacks—S. Murray, Connally, Holland.

Two assistant coaches will go to Nashville with Alexander. They are Coach Hansen of the backfield and Coach Fincher of the line.

The squad will arrive in Nashville at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning and have a light limbering up workout.

HIGH STAR IS LONG SHOT

Pimlico Race Track, Md., November 4.—The longest price of the current racing season was paid by the Log Cabin Stud's High Star, winner of the Glenmore handicap for all ages Wednesday. Holders of a $2 muntel ticket on High Star cashed in for $307.00.

High Star, an unknown, which won by a head, was trained by J. Fenstal, who formerly conditioned Man-o-War.

Petrels Prepare To Face Gale of the Citadel

Campbell Will Be Ready For Contest, He Declares; New Men Working Hard

The Stormy Petrels will entertain Atlanta fandom once more Saturday when the charges of Coach Harry Robertson lock horns with the Citadel at Spiller's field, the game starting at 2 o'clock sharp.

The gridders from up Charleston way are bringing a fast team to Atlanta; one that has seen service against strong teams and one that has played together for a span of three years. From the appearance of the record thus far we would say that the Citadel has a good team.

Despite the recent losses incurred, the Petrels are still in the running for the S. I. A. A. championship, and in fact, are rated better than any other team in the association. The game with the Citadel will probably be the dividing line; if Olethorpe wins it bids fair to finish the season undefeated by an S. I. A. A. team, but if Olethorpe loses, hopes of retaining the crown will go up in smoke. So, followers of football, here is a game worth seeing; a contest with a bearing on a championship.

The work of Cousins and Goldsmith, the substitutes for Parrish and Cooper, is improving daily, and judging by the way they performed against Loyola last Saturday, they are nearly as good as their former teammates. Every practice finds Cousins working diligently, as the position of center is a difficult one, and to perfect the passes to the backfield man it requires an enormous amount of work. Goldsmith is a hard worker too, but nothing like the time consumed by Cousins is needed for him, he only needs a little more to become a regular. Coach Robertson is spending a lot of his time this week with the backfield. Kilgore's absence from the line-up necessitates the added attention. The coordination power is somewhat slackened. He has given Shepherd and Garlington most of his time, and by the way they carry the old pigskin makes things look brighter.

"Nutt" Campbell reported to practice yesterday afternoon, but took no part in the rough work, only running signals for a few minutes. He is still bothered by a cold. "Nutt" has never been too sick to play football, at least not in the regular season, and he announced yesterday that he would be all O. K. and ready to go Saturday.

Dewey Justice and Bob Kilgore, the remaining members of the casualty list are improving rapidly. It is still doubtful whether Captain Kilgore will be able to participate in the struggle Saturday. Justice, although pretty badly bungled up will assume his regular position.

Yesterday afternoon a long scrimmage was the order of practice. The varsity and the "rats" opposed each other. Most of the afternoon the varsity played defensive ball, the "rats" using the plays of the Citadel.

CITADEL EXPECTS STRONG OPPOSITION.

Charleston, S. C., November 4.—(Special.)—The regular routine training has been the program of the Citadel cadets for their engagement with Olethorpe at Atlanta on Saturday. There has been enough scrimmage work to keep the men on edge and some new plays are being put on the roster in order to allow the cadets to have a more varied attack. The strength of the Petrels is well known here and despite the rumors coming from Atlanta about the Georgia team's troubles, the Citadel is looking for just as hard a game as any on its schedule and perhaps a harder one for no team yet encountered can boast of a Mauree, a Kilgore and a Campbell in the backfield.

Coach Prance was much pleased with the work of the line in the Mauree game at Augusta. The forwards did themselves quite proud. They were making up in part for what they did not do against South Carolina on Wednesday last week. The new

"BIG 3" TUSSLE Plan To Invalidate Dempsey Bout Contract Is Charged SATURDAY

New York, November 4.—(AP)—Traditions that form a major part of the background of football rivalries are full with this week on many grids, but particularly at Palmer stadium, where Princeton and Harvard, foes over nearly half a century, meet in the 1896 of the "big three" tussle.

With Yale alone of the old triumvirate standing out prominently in the tussle for eastern honors, this has been the "big three" series will not influence the general rating of teams to any marked extent, but it is always a classic of the gridiron when these old rivals get together. There will be no lack of color or enthusiasm this Saturday, in spite of the fact that it is something of a century and a year for both Harvard and Princeton.

Harvard and Princeton have not been steady rivals since they first met in 1877. There was a long hiatus from 1896 to 1911, but since then except for the war years, the battle has been an annual affair. Since the war Princeton has been the upper hand, with three victories, one defeat and two ties, but before that there was a string of five straight Harvard triumphs.

While it is the oldest of this Saturday's rivalries, the Harvard-Princeton renewal is only one of a number of contests that date their inception back a quarter of a century or more. Columbia and New York University, for instance, first met in 1882, they have had only 12 games since then. The Cornell Dartmouth feud at Hanover, the most important battle of the day from the viewpoint of its effect upon eastern championship claims, was started in 1900.

Washington and Jefferson's clash with Pittsburgh brings together another pair of outstanding eleven in a traditional struggle, started in 1897.

YALE FAVORED STUDENT TO KNOW OVER MARYLAND HIS FATE TODAY

New Orleans, November 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—One member of the Southern conference stages a football invasion of the east Saturday, Maryland going to New Haven to play Yale. The old line has a better chance to come back on their armor than wearing it. Maryland has lost its three games played in the conference and although a good defense has been showing in holding opponents' points to 25, failure to score has indicated a decided offensive weakness.

The Blue defeated Maryland last year 47 to 0 but in 1924 was lucky to get by, the College Parkers holding the Eli team to a score of 16 to 14.

Another intercollegiate game for Saturday brings an eastern team into the south, Albright playing William and Mary at Williamsburg. William and Mary defeated the Pennsylvanians 27 to 0 last year and fresh from an impressive showing against Harvard last Saturday should have an excellent chance to repeat.

SLATTERY PUT ON "SICK LIST"

New York, November 4.—(AP)—Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, was placed on the state athletic commission's involuntary "sick list" today when he notified the commission that he was unable to fulfill a contract to meet Yusoff Perstein in a 15-round match at Syracuse next Friday. The commission notified Slattery to take a 60-day vacation to get in condition for future engagements.

The benching of the colorful light-heavyweight will defer the second installment of the Slade-Slattery feud which Tex Rickard is planning for an early show at the new Madison Square Garden. Under the sick list Slattery will not be eligible before January 4, 1926.

A.M.E. CONFERENCE OPENS IN KENTUCKY
Fulton, Ky., November 4.—(Special.)—The West Tennessee conference of the A. M. E. church opened today. Bishop H. C. Ransom, of New Jersey, is in charge, the devotional services consisting of a sermon by Rev. N. B. Oliver and giving communion. Rev. T. C. Murpherson, J. D. Davis and D. H. Butler were elected secretaries. Rev. M. C. Griffin is pastor on the charge in which the conference is being held.

"The white people of the south want to see that the negro is protected by the law in the community where he lives. There is a large number of that class of people who are desirous of seeing that and that very thing is being done. The negro is anxious to stand by the white people and do what they think is best," said Bishop Ransom.

Rev. G. W. Williams and F. G. Snell, leading pastors of Memphis, endorsed strongly the references of the bishop concerning the south.

The conference asked for $250 for Turner Normal college and it was collected in a very few minutes.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED IN CHAUNCEY OLCOTT
Ann Arbor, Mich., November 4.—(AP) Physicians tonight reported the condition of Chauncey Olcott, noted tenor still here, as somewhat improved, but still serious. Olcott was taken ill Friday while in a tour with a company headed by Mrs. Minnie Madden Fiske, and including Thomas A. Wise and other prominent actors. The company is now in Chicago.

Olcott was taken to a hospital after his appearance here but his illness did not become generally known until announced from the concert platform last night by John McCormack.

The New York Hockey club, through its manager, Tommy Gorman, has offered the Ottawa Hockey association $10,000 for the services of George Boucher, star defenseman of the Ottawa hockey team. He is a brilliant stickhandler and would make a great impression in New York. He will not be sold or traded if I procure his services."

WOMEN HOLD TOURNEY IN DEC.

The woman's city golf championship tournament for 1925 will be played over the East Lake golf course beginning Tuesday, December 10. Only the members of the Atlanta Women's Golf association are eligible to play in the tournament.

The East Lake course will be open to all entries in the mornings of the week with exception of Sundays. The course will be open for practice all day Monday, December 9.

Qualifying rounds will be played Tuesday morning and the matches will start Wednesday. There will be eight players in each flight and the first eight will play for the championship.

Four flights are expected to be filled and trophies will be awarded to the winners and runners-up of each flight.

The entrance fee will be $2.

32 ROUNDS ON COLUMBUS CARD

Columbus, Ga., November 4.—(Special.)—The preliminary bouts for the Stripling-Cook ten-round battle here Saturday night make up one of the finest programs ever offered Columbus fans, according to Major John Paul Jones, in charge of arrangements for the American Legion post.

The feature preliminary will bring together Gene Poyner, of Columbus, and Joe Coffman, of Memphis, for 10 rounds. Poyner, a former champion, will bring out a victory over Battling Budd.

In one of the six round cantos, Red Keenan, of Fort Benning, will face years ago fought Young Stripling when the latter was considerably lighter, faces Mickey Kendrick, who has a string of 10 knockouts in 20 rounds.

Other bouts will be staged aggregating 32 rounds.

The piece de resistance naturally will be the meeting of the Australian heavyweight champion, George Cook, and the Georgia Peach, a prospective champion of the world. It has just been learned here that Cook holds victories over Frank Goddard, Ermino Spalla, and Paulina, three European champions, as well as Jack Sharkey of Boston and innumerable other men of pugilism, and many are beginning to doubt the ability of Stripling to dispose of the burly Antipodean.

Stripling has not fought here since he hung a kyo on Joe Burke's chin in the first bout it was reported that $500 worth had been sold.

Three Points Per Team Is Average for 9 Years; Auburn Once Won, 44-0

BY EMMETT SIZEMORE.

Auburn, Ala., November 4.—(Special.)—Next Saturday afternoon at the Driving Park stadium in Columbus, Ga., the Auburn Tiger will meet the Bulldog eleven from the University of Georgia in the thirtieth football battle between the two eleven. These one and a half score football battles date back for 33 years. Only four football seasons have rolled by since 1892 that the Orange and Blue have not met in conflict the Red and Black, from the Georgia red hills. This record exceeds possibly that of any other college appearing on Auburn schedules in the past years—since the autumn pastime has been in vogue.

These games date back to the pioneer days of the grid sport in the south. Most of the games have been played in Atlanta, Columbus and Savannah. This string of football games has seen the game modified from the early days when brute strength carried away the laurels of the day to the present-day game with its many intricate plays and formations that combines brains with physical ability to make the well-rounded player. These games date back to the days when a handful of spectators stood by the side of the field to watch the game.

Special trains are pressed into service to carry the rabid fans and rah-rah corps to the ringside.

A feature of the Auburn-Georgia game since 1913 is the closeness of the score of the two teams. In the nine games played since 1913, Auburn has totaled 29 points while Georgia has made a total of 30 points, an average of a little more than three points per game. The fans who gather about the chalked out Saturday will await with anxiety to see if the 7 to 0 or the 0 to 0 deadlock that has been prevalent for several years will be broken.

The record of Auburn-Georgia games from 1892 to 1924 follows:

Prosecution Rests Its Case; Stephenson and Aides Begin Presenting Defense Today

Theory of Suicide or Death From Self-Inflicted Scratches Are Bulwarks of Defense.

Noblesville, Ind., November 4.—The state late Wednesday completed its first-degree murder case against D. C. Stephenson, former ruler of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, and two of his henchmen, who are accused of killing Miss Madge Oberholzer.

Stephenson, Earl Gentry and Earl Klensch, the defendants, will begin presenting the jury with their version of the girl's death.

The defense in this case has attracted nationwide attention because of the political prominence of the former Klan leader, probably will proceed along two theories, both indicating that Miss Oberholzer committed suicide.

1. That Miss Oberholzer voluntarily swallowed poison and died either from the direct effects of the poison or from infected scratches which she inflicted on her own body while suffering from the poison.

2. That Stephenson and his companions did everything they could to save her, insisting that she drink milk to counteract the effect of the poison and taking her as rapidly as they could back to her home where she could be given proper care.

Most of Witnesses Doctors.

Eph Inman, chief of the defense counsel, has revealed he will use the above plan by the nature of his cross-examination of state witnesses.

Most of the witnesses during the present week have been medical men, which testimony for the most part, has been over the heads of courtroom spectators and as it was concluded Wednesday afternoon the throng of spectators began to thin away.

Part of Testimony Excluded.

Before the state completed its case, Judge Will M. Sparks ruled on admission of testimony of George Oberholzer, the girl's father, given last Thursday and objected to by the defense.

The court struck out the most part, a version of the story his daughter related to him on her death bed, several sentences of their conversation, which she said she did not testify to the defense, and the defense alleged, if she were present. The quoted statement: "Daddy, that was the longest ride home from Hammond, Indiana, I ever had."

The court, however, left in the record Oberholzer's quotation of his daughter as saying that Stephenson and Gentry both held guns at her sides when they stopped in Indianapolis on the ride home from Hammond, and her purported quotation of Stephenson as saying to her: "I am the law in Indiana."

Doctors on Stand.

Dr. H. N. Hagen of Indiana university, H. O. Mertz, of Indianapolis, the principal witnesses Wednesday, testified that they visited Miss Oberholzer several times before her death and gave intimate details of her condition.

On cross-examination they held to their belief that she died of wounds inflicted by her attackers rather than from the poison that she swallowed.

"We gave her a blood transfusion eight days before her death," Dr. Mertz said, "and for several hours we had every assurance she would recover."

MODIFICATION OF LAW

less, he has chosen to take an aggressive attitude and has obtained a hearing of the house ways and means committee on his plea for beer of 3 or 4 per cent alcoholic content.

This wet drive is recognized by the dry leaders, who have sought to stir their forces to increased vigilance to counteract it. The activity of the wet is concentrated on two issues, according to Wheeler. They are conducting "political campaigns to pick off the drys in congress and state legislatures and a publicity campaign of misrepresentation of prohibition."

World Nullify Federal Law.

"Their program," Wheeler said, "is to nullify the federal law of the land and would be an object lesson in contempt for law unparalleled in history."

As if to corroborate the Anti-Saloon league head in his first deduction, wet leaders are floating over the two contending aspirants for the governor's chair.

Representative Fred A. Britten, of Illinois, said, "was whether or not good men and women were to have their appetites regulated by well paid or fanatic reformers."

New Jersey voters do not wish the return of the saloon, but like millions of other representative citizens, they know that the Volstead law has been a costly failure and their desire now is to get rid of prohibition in its present extreme form and substitute for it, moderate but effective prohibition legislation which will produce real temperance, and above all will save the youth of the nation from its present peril."

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

BEGINS SESSIONS TODAY.

Chicago, November 4.—An imposing battle to banish any and all lingering illusions of the "beer guzzlers" and "cocktail shippers" that the prohibition law has been a failure, began today with the opening of the biennial session of the Anti-Saloon League of America. Approximately 2,500 staunch supporters of the league's law are assembling here from all parts of the nation.

Dr. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the league, who will address the convention Friday morning, has submitted a report outlining new plans for legislation which will be urged at the coming session of congress. He lists it as follows:

"To place enforcement agents and officers under the civil service.

"To provide jail sentences for offenders engaged in the commercialized illegal liquor traffic.

"For the deportation of aliens convicted of violating the prohibition or narcotic acts.

Wheeler also served notice that "our activities will not stop with the seeking of legislation. He declares that "we will concentrate against dishonest officials."

Former Congressman Andrew J. Volstead, of Minnesota, will be here, say a few words. Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of national prohibition enforcement, is scheduled to address. Other distinguished speakers of prohibition include Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania; Congressman W. D. Tamm, of Georgia; Senator Frank B. Willis, of Ohio; Fielding H. (Hurry-Up) Yost, athletic director of the University of Michigan; and E. C. Yellowery, prohibition administrator of Illinois.

POPULAR GRIFFIN BOY

IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Griffin, Ga., November 4.—(Special.)—Thomas Bevil, 16, died at his home Tuesday night after an illness of three weeks of typhoid fever. He was a bright young man and popular with many friends.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bevil; two sisters, Mrs. Clyde Dunn and Miss Jessie Bevil, and one brother, Amos Bevil, of Griffin.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the home of his grandfather, John Russell, in Lamar county.

MOORE SAFELY ELECTED

NEW JERSEY GOVERNOR.

Newark, N. J., November 4.—(AP.)—With only nine unreported districts, seven of them in Bergen county, and two in Burlington, A. Harry Moore, of Jersey City, tonight held a lead of 39,495 votes over his republican opponent, State Senator Arthur Whitener, and the democratic party was celebrating the election of its third successive candidate to the gubernatorial chair.

Aside from the governorship, the republican party virtually swept the state, however. It retained control of both the senate and house of the assembly, and the democratic party was celebrating the election of its third successive candidate to the gubernatorial chair.

Luncheon, Dinner and Reception Honor Distinguished Officials

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pegram III entertained at a brilliant reception Wednesday evening in the Georgian ballroom of the Biltmore hotel, the occasion honoring the group of representative Southern railway officials and their guests, who are spending several days in the city. Several hundred members of Atlanta's fashionable society assembled to meet the following honor guests, who received with Mr. and Mrs. Pegram at the entrance to the ballroom: Fairfax Harrison, L. E. Jeffries, Henry W. Miller, E. A. Oliver, J. B. Munson, Merrell P. Calloway, Robert Mallory, Jr., J. Triplet Haxall, John Redwood, T. Nelson Strother, Ernest Iselin, Ernest E. Norris, W. Emelin Roosevelt, Joseph Stanfield, Casper G. Bacon, Johnathan Bryan, Guy Carey, Walter L. Case, Robert Jamison, Jeremiah Milbank, Devereaux Milburn, Jackson E. Reynolds, Richard S. Reynolds, T. Compton, P. E. Crowley, Lawrence Dillon, Hale Holder, Lindsay Hopkins, Epps Hutton, Jr., H. R. Kurrie, J. F. Loree, U. D. Mather, Samuel Rea, Arthur W. Thompson, Henry Walters and Ernest Williams.

The handsome ballroom presented a scene of unusual beauty with its magnificent decorations of richly-tinted foliage, palms, ferns, evergreens and smilax.

Mrs. Pegram received her guests wearing a handsome gown of shell pink chiffon velvet with a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. DeSales Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pegram, was a beautiful figure wearing a gown of American beauty velvet and gold lace with a corsage bouquet of red roses and valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Pegram were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. DeSales Harrison, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Mrs. Morris Brandon, Mrs. Hollins Randolph, Mrs. Hunt Chipley, Mrs. Price Gilbert, Mrs. Frank Inman, Mrs. Henry W. Davis, Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Robert Smythe, Mrs. John W. Grant, Mrs. Robert Maddox and Mrs. William H. Kiser.

An orchestra played during the reception hours and for the dancing, which was a delightful feature of the evening.

At 11 o'clock a buffet supper was served in the grill of the hotel from tables beautifully decorated.

Grade-Crossing Accidents On Increase, Commission Finds in A.C.L. Wreck Probe

Machinery for Investigation of Nahant Tragedy Being Set in Motion, State Officials Say.

While 705 grade crossings were eliminated on railroad lines in the United States during the past year, 4,500 new grade crossings were created, it was pointed out at the office of the Georgia public service commission Wednesday, in connection with the investigation in connection with the tragedy of last Monday at Nahant, when ten school children were killed and many injured in a crash between an Atlantic Coast Line train and a school motor bus.

Chairman Paul Trammell said that arrangements for the probe of the Nahant wreck were not yet complete, but that a representative of the commission will be sent to Nahant in the next few days.

Figures on the increase in grade crossings in the United States were cited by both Chairman Trammell and Commissioner James A. Perry, who gave as their authority a pamphlet on the subject of such fatalities issued by the Atlantic Coast Line railroad itself. Oddly enough, copies of the pamphlet were received at the commission office Monday, the day of the Nahant tragedy.

Commissioner Perry highly praised the North Carolina law which requires all motorists to come to a full stop before crossing a railroad. A law along this line was passed by the legislature to become effective January 1, the act specifying that it shall only apply to dangerous crossings, which are to be so marked by the railroads.

Citing the A. C. L. pamphlet, Commissioner Perry said that engineers on that line reported many more times the number of crossing accidents averted by a hair breadth than those which do occur and thus come to attention of the public. While passing a law requiring motorists to stop at a crossing is not sufficient precaution, it was stated, it does serve to bring the danger forcibly to attention of drivers, and it was also pointed out that the first year such a law was in effect in North Carolina the number of crossing accidents decreased 12 per cent, the number of people injured decreased 22 per cent and the number of fatalities decreased 50 per cent. This, despite the fact that the number of motorists was considerably larger than in previous years.

TENANT LEASES 20-INCH FRONTAGE ON MIAMI STREET

Miami, Fla., November 4.—(AP)—Leasing a frontage of 20 inches on Flagler, the city's main business street, today, A. G. Elliot claims the smallest office in the city. The office will have a depth of four feet, and the lease, for one year, is said to be $3,000, or $3.75 a square inch. Three men, whose shoulders average 16 inches in width, will alternate in the office, doing business on a four-inch elbow margin.

Things to Know Before Baby Comes

THE expectant mother's comfort and well being is very important. And one of the most important things for her to do is to use a non-irritating, safe penetrating lubricant to keep the skin, muscles and ligaments soft and pliable—thus aiding the tissues and muscles to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood. Mother's Friend is just such a preparation. It is the formula of an eminent physician and has been used by expectant mothers for over three generations. No woman avoiding the joy of motherhood should allow the days to pass without using Mother's Friend. Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., writes: "I used Mother's Friend with all my babies and I think it is the greatest help that has ever been discovered for expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it."

Mother's Friend has saved thousands of expectant mothers from much needless suffering. It relieves those drawing, stretching pains so common during expectancy. Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 31, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Miss Marian Berry Weds Mr. Macauley At Grace Church

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Berry, of Atlanta, announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances Marian, to Thurston Bancroft Macauley, formerly of Columbus, Ohio, but now residing in New York, the marriage having been solemnized Saturday, October 31, at high noon, in Grace church, at Broadway and Tenth street in New York.

The church was decorated in chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The wedding march from Lohengrin was used for the processional and during the ceremony Technikowsky's "Andante Cantabile" was softly played. They went out by Vido march.

William R. Bonnell and Charles Blodgett, of New York, acted as ushers. The lovely bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Royal Daniel, Jr., with whom she entered the church. She wore an imported gown of broad velvet in the autumn shades and carried yellow orchid sprays and valley lilies. Her hat was of corresponding shades.

Mrs. Berry, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in black satin with a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Flora McCarter Macauley, mother of the groom, wore a gown of russet and henna satin, with a corsage of green orchids.

They left immediately for Nantucket Island, Mass.

Upon their return they will be at home, 78 Perry street, New York.

Candy Pulling To Be Given Friday Afternoon.

Circle No. 9, Mrs. E. H. McLaughlin, chairman, and Mrs. F. A. Mitchell, co-chairman, will give a candy pulling Friday afternoon, November 6, at 3 o'clock in the recreation hall at Grace Methodist church on Ponce de Leon avenue. The hall will be heated if the weather is disagreeable.

WIDOW OF FAMOUS STAGE STAR DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, November 4.—(AP)—Lucille McVey Drew, widow of the actor, Sidney Drew, stage and screen partner of her husband in many a popular comedy of married life, is dead.

A lingering illness ended the career of the actress. She died at her home here last night at the age of 35.

Since the death of Mr. Drew in 1919, his widow was seldom seen on the screen. Her motion picture career began with their romance when they met on the old Vitaphone lot. They rose to film fame together and when death dissolved their partnership, Mrs. Drew lost interest in the screen. She wrote several of the picture plays in which she and her husband appeared.

Mrs. Drew was the second wife of the actor, who was the uncle of John Barrymore. She is survived by a sister and two brothers.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed early today.

To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to make. Saves about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and sugar. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pine in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup.

Either way, you make a full pint more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good, and tastes very pleasant.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistent loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pine with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The usefulness of Thedford's Black-Draught has long been known to Mrs. A. B. Leach, of Yale, Okla., who says that she has been using this well known vegetable liver medicine for 28 years.

"I was in very poor health," says Mrs. Leach, "telling of her condition at the time she first began to take Thedford's Black-Draught."

"I would eat, but it didn't seem to satisfy or do me any good. I was bloated, felt oppression at the stomach. The fullness in the right side was awful."

"I did not feel like doing a thing. Eating even made me tired. I sat around, feeling so miserable. One day I looked in the glass and my complexion scared me—no color in my face. My ears looked waxy; skin flabby, pale. I was in a bad fix."

"I had been taking medicine, as I was told that it was inactivity of my liver that was causing this trouble. About this time—nothing having done me any good—I began to look for relief."

"I read of Thedford's Black-Draught, and my husband went to the druggist for it. I began its use, and my blood began to improve. My appetite became more normal. Gradually the bloating disappeared and my skin cleared up. I began to see marked improvement and, from then till now, I have praised Black-Draught as the best liver medicine made."

"I keep Black-Draught in the house and have used it ever since. I regard Black-Draught as my family medicine and expect to keep it for years to come."

Thedford's Black-Draught is made from selected medicinal roots and herbs and contains no dangerous or harmful mineral drugs. It has been in use for 80 years and has been found to relieve constipation, indigestion and biliousness, when due to a torpid liver.

LARGE FEET.
This is a cheerful season for the girl with large feet, for the new styles seem to be designed especially for her. I have just seen some Parisian models which will make any foot look several sizes smaller.

The shoes themselves were fairly plain, in fact, quite a bit plainer than those we have been wearing the last two years. That is a good thing, for a large foot looks best in a simple shoe. The fashions were entirely in the trimming and the trimmings were mostly buckles. Now, as everyone from our Puritan ancestors down to the present has been making the foot look small, and if the buckle is bright it calls attention to its smallness and smartness. The new buckles are quite large and are made of polished steel, steel beads, bronze beads, mother of pearl, brilliants and colored stones.

Of course, French shoes always have short straps, too short for real health but preferred by the French woman because they make her foot look shorter. The American foot is very long and slender and as this length in slimsiness is considered beautiful by us, we keep our feet healthier by clinging to a longer vamp. The French woman wears her buckle over her toes, the American girl has hers set well back so it rests against her instep, emphasizing its arch.

In many cases the buckle is discarded on the evening slipper in favor of a tassel which hangs from the side fastening of the slipper. I saw one tassel of paste diamonds, the top shape top part of the tassel being made of rubies to match the scarlet of the slippers. A long tassel like this at the sides will break the length of the foot and, being a long line, will make it look higher. The girl with large feet must be careful to choose large enough trimmings, for a small buckle would be lost on a great expanse of foot and would make it look twice its size.

Annabelle T.—If you can avoid dyeing your hair you should as there is always an uncertainty about the "natural" outcome shade even if you do have the work done for you. The safest and the easiest way to cover up the fact that you are having gray hairs is to tint them with henna. You can do this without affecting the natural shade of your hair, except for the least suggestion of giving a glint to the natural coloring.

Add the usual package of henna that sells for 15c. to the latter when shampooing, and let this stay on the head for about 15 minutes, after which proceed as with any other method of dyeing. It requires some experimenting in the length of time needed for tinting, but 15 minutes will do for the first time and you need have no fear of spoiling the shade of your hair. Fine hair will take less time than coarse hair to take up the coloring.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our up-to-date fall and winter 1925-1926 book of fashions.

In ordering patterns write name and address plainly on a sheet of paper. Order by number and include price in silver or stamps. Do not mail letter to The Constitution building in Atlanta, but address as follows: Fashion Department, The Constitution, 11-13 Sterling Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH BUSINESS JUMPS; MORE SPACE ADDED

Another indication of healthy business conditions in Atlanta was the information received Wednesday at the local offices of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company that Atlanta had been successful in winning out over eight other important cities in a contest for increased business for the six months' period, March to August, inclusive. Cities in the group were Cincinnati, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Denver, Seattle, Baltimore, Buffalo, Washington and Atlanta.

As a result of the Atlanta office showing the largest percentage of increased receipts the local office will be awarded a banner, signifying their victory, and City Manager John O. Young has been invited to attend a dinner given by the Magnetic club at the Hotel Astor in New York, Monday, November 9, at which time banner winners from all parts of the system will be entertained by the company.

Mr. Young expects to leave for New York Saturday.

An announcement also was made that in order to take care of increased business the company has leased additional space on the fourth floor of the Grant building and will move the operating department to the new quarters as soon after January 1 as the space can be equipped. The new office will be fitted up with the most modern type of electrical apparatus, including the latest type of automatic printer equipment which will double the carrying capacity of direct trunk circuits worked out of Atlanta, officials claim.

HEALTH CONDITIONS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Health conditions in Atlanta are improving and the annual report of the city health department will show marked betterment in the records, according to estimates Wednesday by Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer.

Only tentative figures are available, but these figures show an increase in the birth rate and a decrease in the death rate as compared to last year. The exact figures will be available in a short time and the report will be published.

William A. Bass
P-T. A. To Sponsor
Cooking School

Beginning Monday, November 9, the ways and means committee of the William A. Bass P-T. A. will sponsor a cooking school. The school will be under the instruction of Mrs. Elizabeth Stanfield, whose work on this line is well known. The series of lessons will cover the entire week, beginning Monday. The hours will be from 10 to 12 o'clock each morning and the place will be in the social hall of Druid Hills Presbyterian church, on Ponce de Leon, near Highland avenue, next door to 728 Ponce de Leon avenue.

The menu for the series will be: Monday, quick bread and stunts with biscuit dough; Tuesday, cakes and fillings; Wednesday, meats and vegetables; Thursday, salads and dressings; and Friday, subjects and recipes specially requested by members of the class.

Mrs. Stanfield has conducted cooking schools over the state of Georgia; also Alabama, and was at one time in charge of model kitchen at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company. She has won many prizes for excellent work and recipes, and the ways and means chairman, Mrs. W. H. Chambers, states "she expects many members of the P-T. A. as well as others to take advantage of the instructions given in November." Many valuable draw prizes will be given every day at classes. Special space will be reserved for colored cooks of members of the P-T. A. and members of the class.

Tickets are on sale by members of the ways and means committee and the price is $1. Those wishing to join the class may secure tickets from Mrs. W. H. Chambers, 165 Park drive, Hemlock 3516, or on Monday at the social hall of the Druid Hills Presbyterian church. Tickets are transferable, should a member buying one be unable to attend each day.

Atlantan's Brother Dies.

CHARLIE CARR'S TRIAL
POSTPONED BY STATE

Trial of Charlie Carr, white, charged with the murder on July 14 of Miss Ruth Jackson, scheduled to begin before Judge G. H. Howard Wednesday in Fulton superior court, was postponed on account of the illness of a state witness.

Miss Jackson was found dead in an apartment on Courtland street and a verdict of a coroner's jury found that she had met death by strangulation. Carr was indicted August 1 by a Fulton county grand jury.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY The First Winter at Plymouth. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE PILGRIMS LANDED AT PLYMOUTH ON DECEMBER 21, 1620. THEY CAME NOT TO CONQUER NOR TO SEEK GOLD, BUT TO BUILD A HOME IN THE WILDERNESS AND WORSHIP GOD IN THEIR OWN WAY.

A LARGE LOG HOUSE WAS BUILT IN HASTE TO SHELTER ALL THE PILGRIMS UNTIL HOMES COULD BE ERECTED. THERE WAS NO IMMEDIATE DANGER OF INDIAN ATTACKS, AS A RECENT PESTILENCE HAD NEARLY WIPED OUT THE NEARBY TRIBES.

THAT WINTER WAS A TERRIBLE ONE FOR THE PLYMOUTH SETTLERS. FIFTY PERSONS DIED FROM THE HARSHNESS AND Famine, AMONG THEM GOVERNOR CARVER. HE WAS SUCCEEDED BY WILLIAM BRADFORD.

THOSE WHO DIED WERE BURIED SECRETLY AT NIGHT AND THE GRAVES LEVELED, SO THAT NO PROWLING INDIANS MIGHT DISCOVER HOW FEW OF THE WHITE MEN WERE LEFT.

YET WHEN THE "MAYFLOWER" SET SAIL FOR ENGLAND IN THE SPRING OF 1621, NOT ONE OF THE PILGRIMS WENT WITH HER. THEY HAD COME TO STAY.

TAX LIEN FILED AGAINST JONES

Revenue agents from the office of Josiah T. Rose, collector of internal revenue, Wednesday filed federal tax liens against property owned in Georgia by Neufield T. Jones, former assistant federal prohibition director of Georgia, for a total of $16,573.99 said to be due the government in unpaid income taxes.

According to the revenue agents the tax is due on income said to have been earned by the defendant since 1922, during which time he has resided in Washington and Baltimore. The papers were filed in the office of the clerk of the federal court.

Neufield T. Jones and his brother, Winfield Jones, both former citizens of Atlanta, recently were indicted in Baltimore and convicted in federal court on charges of conspiracy in connection with withdrawal of liquor in that city. The Jones brothers and several other defendants were convicted and others in the case already have begun serving sentences in federal prison here. The Jones brothers appealed their case after they had been sentenced to serve two years each in the penitentiary here.

Collector Rose is out of the city, but all papers in the case are said to be in the Washington office of the internal revenue department. The liens filed here were directed against property located at 580 Highland avenue.

It was stated that Neufield T. Jones is in Baltimore, being released under bond following his conviction after he had filed an appeal in the case.

In the liens the government is seeking to collect penalties for non-payment amounting to $118,911 making a total of $135,484.90. It was stated that Neufield T. Jones is expected in Atlanta in about three weeks. Under the federal law, the government can seize property to satisfy a tax lien ten days after the lien is filed.

of more than minor interest were taken up Wednesday.

The petition for clemency for R. N. Berrien, Jr., former Atlanta broker, serving from three to five years after conviction of larceny after trust of funds derived from the sale of Georgia school warrants, will not come before the commission before December, it was stated.

Decision in the case of E. O. Stigall, heard on Tuesday, will not be made for several weeks at least. Stigall has served about two years of a sentence of from 15 to 16 years for the killing of W. H. Hames. Stigall was a member of the Atlanta city police force at the time.

SAVED FRIEND FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Heckman Decided to Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Note Results—

Council Bluffs, Iowa.—"I had pains in my back and sides and headaches, so that I could not do my work. Once in a while I would be sick a week. A friend told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had kept her out of the hospital, so I thought I would try it, as I had tried a number of other medicines. Now I feel like a different person and am telling my friends about the Vegetable Compound."

Saved From An Operation. Monessen, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious case of female trouble. The worst pain I had was in my right side and back with swelling in my side so that I was unable to walk at one time. I was ordered to go to the hospital, but here I am, still without an operation. I saw your advertisement and have taken the Vegetable Compound with splendid results."

Radium Valued At $5,000 Found In Garbage Dump

Americus, Ga., November 4.—(Special.)—Using an electroscope brought to Americus for the purpose, Dr. T. B. Edwards, of the Georgia School of Technology, of Atlanta, on Tuesday recovered a tube of radium from the city garbage dump at the Americus crematory.

Radium contained in the tube is valued at $5,000 and owned by Dr. A. C. Primrose, Dr. Herschel Smith and Dr. Emmett Anderson. The substance had been used by Dr. Primrose for application upon a patient in his office several days ago, and in some mysterious manner became mislaid. Search of the premises failed to reveal its presence, and it was decided to search for the radium in the city garbage dump.

The electroscope soon located the precious mineral, and after sifting several boxes of garbage, it was finally found and returned to Dr. Primrose.

Uncle Ray's Corner A Hero Seeks Lasting Life

An interesting thing about the clay tablets found in Babylonia is that some of them tell of a mighty flood. There was a hero named Gilgamesh, the writing declares, who as part-god and part man. He feared that he would die, and wanted to find some way to live forever.

While wondering what he ought to do, Gilgamesh remembered that he had an ancestor who had been born hundreds of years before but was still alive.

"I shall go to see him," the hero decided, "and I shall ask how I may learn to live for all time to come."

After long travels, he reached the home of his ancestor, whose name was Utna-pish-tim. To his amazement, he saw that the man did not look old, in spite of the centuries he had lived.

"Will you tell me how thou art able to live without growing old?" asked the hero.

"Yes, I will tell thee a secret story," the man replied. "Long ago, I lived by the side of a river. I dwelt in a reed hut, and one day I heard a voice:

"'Reed hut, reed hut, wall, hear! Wall, give ear! Oh, man, break up the house and build a ship. Let your property go, and save you life. Put into the ship the seed of all things.'"

"I knew that this was the voice of a water god, Ea, and I followed the command. I built my ship 120 cubits wide and 120 cubits high. I poured asphalt and pitch on the walls. All my silver, I put on board. All

SIME EINSTEIN HAS SOLD CLOTHES HERE 35 YEARS

After fitting thousands of Atlanta men and boys with fashions of the day through three generations or so, a man might seem to have of fair excuse for feeling he had done enough for fashion and that the time was ripe for a closer devotion to golf or fishing, or just plain loafing. Sime Einstein, who now is general manager of the Carlton Clothing company at 36 Whitehall street, has other ideas.

"It is 35 years now since I started selling good clothes to Atlanta men," said Mr. Einstein, "and I suppose I am today the dean of the clothing salesmen of the city. Anyway, I'll bet I have met every man of note in this town during my business life, and all of it has been spent right along here on Whitehall and lower Peachtree street. Right now I have customers bringing in their grandsons, and telling the kids 'this is the fellow that sold me my first grown-up suit of clothes.' I wouldn't trade that kind of friendship."

With a following such as he has, it is natural to expect to find Ein-

SNOOK NOT TO CLAIM BODY OF ANDERSON

Although a reward of $500 was posted in 1924 for the arrest of George "Dutch" Anderson, noted bandit who was slain at Muskogee, Mich., Saturday night no claim for the body will be placed with the Muskogee authorities by the federal prison here, it was stated Wednesday by Warden John W. Snook. Press dispatches from the Michigan city stated that the authorities there were ready to turn the body of Anderson over to the prison.

Anderson escaped from the federal prison here in December, 1923, at the same time Gerald Chapman, noted postal bandit, escaped. Chapman is now in New Haven, Conn., where he is under death sentence on charges of killing a policeman in that city.

At the time of the escape the reward of $500 was offered according to Warden Snook, who said he did not ent situation. Should a controversy arise the matter would be referred to the attorney general of the United States for disposition according to Warden Snook.

STATE TO COLLECT INSURANCE TAXES

Preparations for collection of the state occupation tax from insurance agents were under way Wednesday in the office of Comptroller General William A. Wright, at the state capitol. Under provisions of a law passed by the last legislature, this tax will in future be collected by the comptroller general in his capacity as insurance commissioner, instead of by county tax collectors.

It was believed at the time the law was passed that this would result in a large increase of revenue from this source. It was stated that many insurance agents failed to pay the occupation tax to their local collectors, whereas they could be compelled to pay the comptroller general, as he could refuse to issue a license to any agent who failed to pay the tax.

It was stated at the comptroller-general's office Wednesday that over 10,000 agents licenses were issued in 1924, but that many individual agents had numerous licenses, one being required for each company they represented. However, it was hoped that revenue from this source would be doubled in the future. Last year's total collections for this tax were approximately $30,000.

MONROE U.D.C. CHAPTER INDORSES COIN SALE

Monroe, Ga., November 4.—(Special.)—At a meeting held Tuesday afternoon the Henry D. McDaniel chapter, U. D. C., of Monroe, unanimously passed the following resolution endorsing the action of the state U. D. C. convention in endorsing the antagonistic attitude of its retiring president towards the Stone Mountain memorial and the management of the memorial affairs:

"We, the Henry D. McDaniel chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, deplore the action of the Georgia division in recent convention assembled at Sunderland, Ga., in refusing to cooperate with the Stone Mountain Memorial association in their great work of memorializing the heroes of the Confederacy in the imperishable granite of Stone Mountain, and desiring to express our regret and disapproval of the action of the convention, do hereby pledge allegiance to the memorial association and also pledge our best efforts to assist in the sale of memorial coins, and to help in every way possible in carrying this magnificent conception to a most successful completion."

JOANNA

BY H. L. GATES

JOANNA

Joanna, a modern shop girl, parents, living alone, is summoned to the office of Yvonne, owner of the department store where she is employed, and given a letter addressed to her in care of the store. The letter informs her that $10,000.00 has been deposited to her account in Eggleston's bank by a benefactor who provides that his name nor his reasons for the stupendous gift shall be revealed to her. No conditions are attached to the gift, and Joanna is told that she may do with the money as she wishes. Neither Eggleston, who is a great financier, nor Graydon, will advise her. Joanna meets Brandon, a nephew of Eggleston. He exerts a strange influence over her and she is at times afraid of him. He becomes devoted to her. She knows instinctively that Brandon is setting a trap of some kind for her. Joanna is then struck when she meets the suspicious and her friends, who will not believe that she actually received a fortune from an unknown man innocently. Desperately, she turns to John, her school-day sweetheart, who is also poor and struggling to be an architect. John also is suspicious and resists her, accusing her of having fallen to the level of her two short skirts, her lipstick and cigarettes. Brokenhearted by John's unjust suspicion, Joanna tries valiantly to glean from Graydon some inkling of the reason for the gift to her by the unknown, and fails. She will not seek John, and confides to her chum Gooch, another shop girl, that John will have to come to her. She decides also to accept the attention Brandon showers upon her—perhaps, she concludes, he will be of more value in opening up a career than John. With Brandon, Joanna has her first glimpse of the life she has always yearned for—a fashionable suite per club. Here she sees famous people, she must meet and mingle with them, and feels the exhilaration of money and what it means. Through Brandon she meets Yvonne, a beautiful, mysterious woman of the world, with whose career even Joanna is familiar. She is like Brandon, a man who once declares to Joanna his interest in her and promises that he is going to make love to her. As Kenilworth predicted, Yvonne asks Joanna to become her mistress, promising to help her discover a way to make use of her money and to bring her sort of pleasure she has always wanted.

INSTALLMENT XX.

If he thought to provoke the woman he cross-examined, Kenilworth was disappointed. She studied him coolly. "I'm not so sure my whisky diluted your wit after all," she observed. "You argue beautifully. I shall give you your triumph. I have a motive. As clearly defined as you picture it. As for the girl herself, I shall probably like her tremendously, though that is of no importance. And it doesn't follow, necessarily, that my motive means evil to her. That will be up to her."

"There's going to be quite a lot put up to her, I should imagine," Kenilworth agreed. "You simply give her an added problem. How does Brandon associate in your plotting?"

"Now, Roddy, I didn't guarantee to go into details. There aren't any, yet. You may be unperturbed, however. Brandon wanted me to ask her to come to me. He doesn't know why I consented—and you won't, either, until you discover for yourself. Now, then, I'm going to uncurl my legs and come out of my female Hindu goddess pose. It's becoming uncomfortable. So I shall be pondering evil no longer. You observe I do not ask you what your intentions are toward my ward, as I should, but that is because I'll see for myself. I know your procedure perfectly."

He gave her his hand and helped her to her feet. "I have a sense of being completely baffled," he remarked, ruefully. "I learn only what I already knew, and nothing more, except—" Suddenly his tone altered. "Except that you would torture every living thing and wreck every castle that was ever built in the air if Brandon would hold out his hand to you!"

"That," she retorted, "is the highball. Perhaps I had better change my brand of Scotch, after all." But when Kenilworth had gone Yvonne dropped into the nearest chair. Had he returned and studied her at any time during the next half hour he would have concluded that there could be no doubt about it this time. She pondered.

It was late in the afternoon when Walker stood behind his mistress, who was serving tea to a small company of men and women around the same stone table, in the winter garden, on which Kenilworth had perched himself earlier in the day. "The mademoiselle who is expected has arrived," the butler murmured.

Yvonne rose at once. "I shall be back in time for a cigarette, at least," she added to her excuses. She crossed her drawing room, from its entrance into the winter garden, just in time to see Teddy Dorminster, the one who was born a lord but could persuade no one to consider the coincidence seriously, come to a standstill before the slight girlish figure that stood directly in his path from the reception hall, where he had just turned over his coat and stick to Walker, across the room to the garden. Teddy Dorminster kept none of his secrets or his enthusiasm to himself. He brought a new store of both on his daily droppings in at Yvonne's—her's was, in a measure, a continuously open house when she was in town.

The newcomer stared into Joanna's face frankly. He fumbled in his pocket and produced his eyeglass, which he carefully screwed into his eye. Then he scrutinized her again, utterly oblivious to her equally unabashed stare at him.

"Jove!" young Dorminster exclaimed. "What a pretty girl!" Yvonne was in time to hear Joanna's reply: "How in the world did you ever happen?"

Across the Threshold.

Both Joanna and Lord Teddy were startled by Yvonne's peal of laughter. Now, Teddy, you know what everybody thinks when you're around," she declared. "You must really make up an answer some time." Turning to Joanna, she informed her: "He's not always so bad-mannered, you know. I fancy you'll get along famously. I'll present him as Lord Dorminster, but you must just call him Teddy—it fits him better." To the man, who struck Joanna as something of an overgrown youth, she added: "This is my new protegee, one I'm going to be very fond of, Miss Manners. After awhile you'll be calling her Joanna."

Lord Teddy was all embarrassment and contrition. "Oh, I say!" he fumbled. "I thought it would be someone who—ah—you were having to sing, or dance, or do something like that, you know, tomorrow night perhaps. Didn't know she was a friend. Sorry, terribly!"

Joanna, who had scant ideas of what one does at a meeting of a lord, even a Teddy sort of one, scrambled desperately for what she would have termed, conceivably, the right comeback. She was disturbed, too, by that apology for supposing her as one who had come to sing, or to dance, "or something like that." It implied something she didn't know what, but something about her that wasn't as it should be. Yvonne shot a frown at Dorminster and went to her rescue.

"Run along now, Teddy," she commanded. "There's tea or alcohol, whichever you prefer, in the garden. You know everybody in there. Miss Manners will remember, anyhow, that you were perfectly in earnest despite your rudeness."

He wanted to add something to his apology, to straighten it out, but Yvonne hustled him off unceremoniously. To Joanna she said: "He's dear, is Teddy. He follows me around the world. He says wherever I am some husband's wife needs consolation and his duty to be on hand. And he declares he's perfectly sincere about it."

She talked on, saying things that were meaningless to Joanna, the obvious things that had to do with the beginnings of a new friendship, and the prospects of a "jolly" time for the girl in a new life. A trim, lace-aproned and white head-dressed maid answered Yvonne's summons and replied to her mistress' question that Miss Manners' apartment was in order.

"I've a little bedroom and a cozy sitting room for you, not too far from my own," Yvonne explained. "I hope you will be no end comfortable." At a finger touch a gold panel in the wall of the reception hall slid back, disclosing a tiny gilt elevator of the kind that is automatic. The maid followed them into the lift and pushed the buttons that sent it climbing to an upper floor. Joanna was strangely tremulous. She wanted to say bright things to the older woman who was ushering her into these new and luxurious surroundings, but her mind was in an uneasy turmoil.

"Why was everything happening as it was? So naturally, so swiftly, so smoothly? Should she trust herself to Yvonne Coutant?" She stole a glance at the woman who stood so close to her, and comprehended her extraordinary fascination, the hair that was as black as volcanic, the magnolia-white face contrasting sharply with the two luminous black eyes, and the lips that were full and red without the exaggerations of lip stick contours. The fear that vibrated through her at times with Brandon, the indubitable fear that seemed so unreasonable, gripped her for a second. Then her thoughts flashed to what Teddy Dorminster had said in the room downstairs: "A singer, a dancer, or something like that?" What was there wrong about her? She had put on her gray tailleur and the mink coat. And her smart, gray cloche hat was from a famous Avenue shop. Did she still remind one of the silk counter? And if she did, what of it? Weren't the imitations of the silk counter all right? Certainly there had been no girl in her merry, go-as-fast-as-you-can-without-skidding crowd, who could profess to cause men's wives to need consolation because of them. But, of course, Yvonne had not been serious! It was just a manner of talk; the small talk she would have to learn.

All of these things flashed through the girl's agile brain while the tiny gold elevator lifted from the first floor to the third. When the car had stopped, and the maid had slid open the narrow grilled door and stepped out, Joanna had dispersed her doubts with a determined wave of confidence. The arrogance came back into her eyes and to her lips. "She'd get on, or she'd take an awful wallop trying!"

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint smudges and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. A dark vertical strip is visible along the right edge, possibly indicating the binding or gutter of the book.
